On first anniversary of the Barn Mead blaze in which a mother and her five children died...

Six balloons for the six lives lost

Watch Dr Shakoor's message at www.harlowstar.co.uk

SIX balloons - three blue and three pink - were released as all sections of the Harlow community joined to remember the six members of the Shakoor family who lost their lives in the Barn Mead fire a year ago this week.

Dr Abdul Shakoor, who still works at Princess Alexandra Hospital, was the only survivor of the blaze which ripped through the family home in the early hours of October 15 last year.

His wife, Dr Sabah Usmani, and their five children - daughters Hira, 12, and Maheen, 3, and sons Sohaib, 11, Muneeb, 9 and Rayyan, 6 - all died.

Dr Shakoor was unable to attend Tuesday's service at the Salvation Army hall in Tendring Road as he travelled to Pakistan to spend the day with his family, but he sent a video in which he thanked members of the emergency services and the Harlow community for their support.

"I am sorry I cannot be here with you today as I am going to see my mum and family in Pakistan," he said. "The memory of that tragic night is still in my mind, very fresh. I have really some good memories of my family, especially with my wife. For 20 years we were together."

"My children - my daughter Hira and all three sons - were very well-behaving and very welcoming. In a small period of time they really made their own place here."

"My younger daughter, she is very beautiful and she actually used to bring the happiness and smile on all of the faces. Our family really loved her a lot."

Zaheer Ahmed, of the Harlow Islamic Centre, also spoke at the service. He said: "It is exactly one year

Former college student killed in fire horror after car hits a deer

A FORMER Harlow College dance student was one of two teenagers killed in an horrific car crash on Tuesday.

Daniela Ruggiero, 18, and a 17-year-old - who had not been named as the Star went to press - were in a car which hit a deer and then collided with another vehicle on the A10 between Ware and Puckeridge.

The car in which the girls were travelling burst into flames. They were pronounced dead at the scene.

The driver of the other vehicle - a man in his 50s - was taken to Princess Alexandra Hospital with leg injuries.

Daniela, who lived in Hoddesdon, joined Harlow College two years ago to study for an extended diploma in dance. She graduated in July this year with distinctions. She then went to The Dance College in Royston to pursue her dream of becoming a dance teacher.

A college spokeswoman said: "Daniela was a truly amazing student who was a pleasure to teach and work with and who undoubtedly approached life's challenges with positivity."

"She was a very popular student amongst us all and will be greatly missed. Our thoughts and prayers go out to the family at this sad time."

Couple who met at flying display celebrate 60 years

HAPPY EVER AFTER: Brian and Jean Hudspeth

A COUPLE celebrating their diamond anniversary will have their marriage blessed in front of family, friends and the congregation at the same church where they were married.

Brian and Jean Hudspeth, of Harlow Common, first met when they were teenagers.

"We were at North Weald watching a flying display," said Jean, now 81. "I was with my friend and he was with his."

"They walked us from North Weald to Epping where we were going to catch the bus. Brian put my knitting in his saddle bag and then cycled away with it once they'd walked us to the bus stop."

"He only knew I was Jean but met somebody at work who asked if anybody knew Jean. He got in touch with me and asked me to meet him at Epping cinema and he would give me my knitting back."

"My mum came with me and that was it. He then went into the Army and we got married when I was 21."

"We had a shop in Harlow town centre and we sold heating spares. We employed 20 people at one point," said Jean, who is a keen fundraiser.

"My husband was the managing director and I was the secretary. If you can work together and be married and spend a lot of time together then it's a sign of a good marriage."

"That's the secret: you work together, live together and laugh together."

Brian and Jean, who will be celebrating their 60th anniversary on October 24, will be having a blessing of their marriage at St Mary Magdalene Church at Potter Street on Sunday.

They have two children - Ian, 55, and Jane, 50 - four grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Teacher suspended for 'bury' comment

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A TEACHER at a Harlow primary school has been suspended after parents complained she threatened to "bury pupils in the woods" if they did not keep quiet.

The teacher at Kingsmoor Academy, in Ployters Road, is alleged to have told her class that she would put them in the boot of her car, take them to the woods and put them in a hole if they were not quiet.

She has now been suspended while an investigation into the allegation is carried out.

The father of one pupil contacted the Star. He said: "It has come to light that my child's teacher has been saying that if they do not shut up she will put them in the boot of her car, take them to the woods and bury them. It's horrific."

"My wife and I went to the headteacher and were told that this was the case and they were looking into it, but the teacher was still there."

"From what my daughter has told me the teacher has been saying this for a while and quite often. Although the headteacher was very sympathetic and said it was a mistake, I don't want my daughter having to hear threats in her classroom."

"She said that it was not meant in a horrible way but you shouldn't say things like that anyway. My wife and I were horrified when we found out."

A school spokeswoman said: "A member of staff at Kingsmoor Academy has been suspended following allegations made against that individual."

"We take any allegations very seriously and an investigation is under way. In the meantime there will be no disruption to children's learning and parents will receive a letter explaining the current situation."

"It would not be appropriate to comment further on the nature of the investigation until it has been concluded."

According to Essex County Council's website, the school has been in special measures since an Ofsted inspection in September 2011.

The environment is important to us. The Harlow Star is printed on paper produced from environmentally managed forests.

Please recycle this newspaperREADERSLETTERS*It seems town's Green Wedges no longer have any protection*SIR, They really don't get it! Last Wednesday evening members of Harlow Council's development management committee voted to permit the building of a new health centre (a replacement for Lister House) on part of one of the town's Green Wedges.

The vote was four to one in favour, with only Councillor Jean Clark standing out against this betrayal of Harlow's heritage.

Green Wedges have protection against inappropriate development. This is clearly laid out in planning policy clause NE1, which states in part: "Green Wedges will be protected from inappropriate development. Permission will be granted for small scale development proposals or replacement buildings that do not have an adverse effect on the Green Wedge".

The scheme given the green light last week drives a coach and horses through this protection. It seems our Green Wedges now have no protection as this is the second time that Harlow Council has engineered this type of deal. Remember the Sportszone?

I fear for the wonderful design that is Harlow. It is the combination of well planned, close knit communities set in areas of green space that makes our town special. All of this is now at risk.

There is a blue plaque in the Water Gardens to honour Sir Frederick Gibberd, whose idea of Green Wedges made this town so special. If he knew what had taken place in the Civic Centre just metres from this plaque he would perform the obligatory revolutions.

John Curry
Old Orchard, HarlowBuilding on open spaces is the end of new town masterplan*SIR, In his 1952 masterplan for Harlow, Frederick Gibberd said that Green Wedges should be left free of buildings.

For many years Harlow Council steadfastly supported that principle. Sadly, this policy has long since been abandoned.

This week a friend who served for over 20 years as a chief officer with the council expressed his regret. He said that in 25 years Harlow will have doubled or trebled in size and the remains of the Gibberd 'new town' will be left to deteriorate in the middle.

Perhaps building on the Abercrombie Way Green Wedge and other open spaces has really marked the demise of the masterplan and its landscape principles. Is this the end of Gibberd?

Ron Bill
Upper Park, HarlowCAB has filled the void left by the demise of HWRA*SIR, Having read the article reporting Councillor Danvers' views on Harlow Welfare Rights and Advice service (Star, October 10), I would like to put on record that I totally dissociate myself from his comments.

Council officers are highly qualified hard-working people for whom I have great respect and whose guidance was in line with legal advice. When asked by the Friends of HWRA, the district auditor found Harlow Council had acted completely correctly.

The implication is that only HWRA was available to give advice on benefits, debt etc.

PHOTO OF THE WEEKREADER Angie Stewart-Evans writes: "I took this photo of an 'upside down' rainbow at Harlow Town Park adventure playground. I was there with my two young sons and happened to look up to see it in all its glory."*"Apparently (from searching the internet), it is quite a rare meteorological phenomenon and weather conditions have to be perfect with no rain. I feel really privileged to have seen it and captured its beauty and wonder if anyone else was lucky enough to see it."*If you have a photo taken in or around the town which you would like to feature in our Photo of the Week section, email a high-resolution copy in JPEG format, along with a description of your photo and details of when and where it was taken, to star@hertsessexnews.co.uk. Include your name and address and insert 'Photo of the Week' in the subject line.

This is not true; the Citizens Advice Bureau has always been there as an equal provider of quality advice to those in need.

Since the demise of HWRA the CAB has done a magnificent job in filling the gap under a heavily increased workload. Personally, I would not want advice from an organisation that itself incurred a debt of £125,000. Would anyone?

For anyone in need of help with benefits or debt, CAB can be found at the West Gate exit of the Harvey Centre or on 08451 203717.

Cllr Edna Stevens (Labour)
Fullers Mead, Harlow

the good sense to vote against David Cameron's proposal.

I am sick and tired of the Government and their friends blaming Labour for what was a worldwide collapse of the capitalism system.

Dave Barham
address suppliedUKIP is the only political party with a growing membership*SIR, In last week's paper there were two letters about UKIP. First we had Simon Carter completely misrepresenting UKIP's opposition to the bedroom tax. How he could do this without using the words 'bedroom tax' is totally beyond me.

Just to make it 100 per cent - UKIP does not oppose benefit reforms. In fact I believe there is now a political consensus that work must pay and that benefits are a leg up, not a way of life.

We do oppose the bedroom tax as it is unfair and goes against the belief that the tax system should be used to incentivise and not penalise. Cllr Carter knows we do not have the smaller properties in Harlow to make this work. We say give a bigger decorating grant or something as an incentive to move if it was possible.

We want to see Harlow's Labour council put their money where their mouth is and rule out evictions and courtcases, and reduce the ridiculous 24 per cent council tax they expect tenants to pay. Something like 87.5 per cent of other councils can do it, so why not Harlow?

David Pugh's letter was more puzzling. UKIP is only 20 years old and has not had anything like the foot soldiers or money to challenge the larger parties in the past. But that is now changing - our membership is the only one growing in this country and the successes we had in May shows that we are a growing force.

The idea that we are stealing votes from other parties is plain wrong.

Mark Gough
Glebelands, HarlowPetulant outburst ignores the truth of Conservative's record*SIR, Cllr Simon Carter's petulant outburst about jumping on the bandwagon of welfare reform criticisms (Letters, October 3) contains the kind of blinkered enthusiasm one has come to expect from him.

He boasts how under the Conservatives interest rates are at record lows whilst failing to mention that they have been at 0.5 per cent since March 2009 - a full year before the coalition took power.

Next he crows about 1.4 million jobs that have supposedly been created without mentioning that the majority of them are £2.60 an hour apprenticeships and zero-hour contracts.

He waxes lyrical about how the UK is exporting cars again whilst the vast majority of the profits go to shareholders in Germany, Japan and the USA.

Low interest rates are a sign of a weak economy, not a strong one, and they won't be being enjoyed by the army of retired Tory voters who are seeing their retirement savings decimated. Public sector debt is rising faster now than at any time during the 13 years of Labour government and is estimated to reach £1,010bn by the end of 2013.

Oh, and the cherry on the top is that net immigration rose to 176,000 according to the figures announced last month.

Still, I'm sure the five per cent tax cut the Tories gave to millionaires was greatly appreciated.

Robert Johnson
HarlowOnce again we must prepare for soaring energy charges*SIR, Here we go again with the annual rises by the big (as in out of control) six energy companies. Rises that are way, way above in inflation and way, way above the increase we pensioners hope to get.

The increases are supposed to pay for investment into the infrastructure. Then how is it we have only five days of surplus gas due to the lack of storage plant and the National Grid warns of blackouts this winter?

All we see is increased profits for these companies, with most of the money going abroad to these foreign owners.

Pam & Terry Slater
Moortfield, HarlowFootball club's show of support to schools sport is appreciated*SIR, I would like to publicly express my gratitude to Tommy Cunningham and Harlow Town Football Club for their recent show of support towards school sport in our town.

Mr Cunningham has made Barrows Farm and the new 4G astrotrurf pitch available for schools to use and this season will see it host the West Essex district schools representative team, various 6-a-side floodlit competitions, West Essex schools cup finals and many other separate games.

This will make what is a wonderful facility accessible to hundreds of children across Harlow and the surrounding areas and will hopefully cement a legacy between the schools, the community and our local club.

The memory of that tragic night is still in my mind, very fresh

ago that this tragic loss of life took place. Words cannot describe how it feels to lose someone so quickly and also so tragically.

"It seems it was yesterday but the pain is still there. We miss them all dearly."

"The Harlow Islamic Centre has given support to Dr Shakoor through this time and we will continue to do so. We long for the culprits to be brought to justice and to bring Dr Shakoor some closure."

"The tragedy has brought us together even more and reminds us yet again that there are many good people among us."

Princess Alexandra Hospital chaplain Christine Hawkins was also invited to speak. She said: "It is hard to be here again one year on. Has it really been one year since Sabah, Hira, Sohaib, Muneeb, Rayyan, Maheen died so tragically, so cruelly?"

"The death of Dr Shakoor's family was one of those defining moments for our community, much like Princess Diana for our nation and President JF Kennedy for America."

Speaking afterwards, Zia Rehman, vice-chairman of the Harlow Islamic Centre, said: "People are coping. It is ironic that such a sad day - the anniversary - should fall on the first day of Eid which is a happy celebration. It is very difficult but the community is coping."

"Time has flown by. It seems only yesterday and the whole community has shared in the loss. We are all still grieving."

"It is important to keep their memories alive and we are hoping that the people responsible are found. We have our trust in the police who are working to bring those culprits to justice."

"We appeal to anyone with any

sort of information to come forward and help the police with their investigations."

Police continue to investigate the deaths of the Shakoor family as murder and arson. Three men, all aged 19, have been arrested, questioned and released on police bail while enquires into what is the largest ever Essex Police murder inquiry continue.

The cause of the fire is still subject to forensic investigation. It started in the lounge but a year on the exact cause has not been identified yet.

Detectives and staff from Operation Shakespeare have taken almost 1,500 statements, interviewed hundreds of people and taken over 3,000 items for examination.

Detective Superintendent Rob Vinson, who leads the investigation, said: "I believe that someone within the Harlow community knows who is responsible for the burglary and arson."

"One year on I ask them to give serious thought to telling someone what they know."

"Dr Shakoor is a private, dignified man who has had to cope with the most unimaginable tragedy of losing his entire family. He is suffering every day and for his sake I urge you to make contact."

Melanie Walker, Chief executive Princess Alexandra Hospital NHS Trust

"Princess Alexandra Hospital is part of the local community and like the local community has felt a deep sense of loss for Dr Shakoor. Many of our staff know him personally and with help of the trust have provided support and assistance when required. Our thoughts and prayers are with him at this time."

Councillor Mark Wilkinson, Leader Harlow Council

"We will never forget that night and our thoughts continue to be with Dr Shakoor, his family, his friends and colleagues. We will also never forget how the whole Harlow community and the emergency services rallied round to support Dr Shakoor and each other. This will be an extremely difficult week for Dr Shakoor and the Harlow community continues to offer support and pay its respects."

Nick Alston Police and Crime Commissioner for Essex

"The death of Dr Shakoor's wife and five children in a house fire in Harlow was a dreadful event. Throughout it all Dr Shakoor has shown immense courage and dignity, as have members of the local Islamic community. At the memorial service last year the people of Harlow came out onto the streets to demonstrate their respect and sympathy. It is right that we pause to remember this tragedy and pay our respects to Dr Shakoor, his friends and his loved ones."

Gary Sanderson East of England Ambulance Service

"Our attending ambulance crews, control and support staff who dealt with this incident on the night were confronted with one of the biggest fatal fires the ambulance service has attended in Essex. Our staff members will take this opportunity to pay their respects and meet the community of Harlow who were deeply affected when six people lost their lives."

Stuart Rawlins, chairman Essex Crimestoppers

"One year on a community is still searching for answers and a husband and father searching for justice. Crimestoppers offered a reward of up to £10,000 shortly after this incident and that reward still remains on the table for anyone who provides that crucial piece of information that could lead to an arrest and conviction. This was a tragic incident and the person or people responsible need to be held accountable for their actions."

A personal appeal by Detective Superintendent Rob Vinson

I am making this direct appeal to you on the saddest of anniversaries. It is one year on from the fatal fire in Barn Mead that took the lives of six members of the Shakoor family.

A devoted mother and her five children lost their lives. As a father myself I cannot imagine the pain that Dr Shakoor is going through to lose your whole family.

As Essex Police detectives continue to investigate their deaths as murder, I believe that someone knows something about the house fire, burglary, and the car fire in Barn Mead in the early hours of October 15, 2012. I urge them to pass that information on to me or speak with someone they trust.

The family's Toshiba Satellite laptop was stolen from the house and the laptop bag and lead was found days later in the Whitewatts area. Do you know where it is or who took the laptop?

A young man was seen on a bike close to the car fire and they have never come forward. Do you know who this was?

If you can help in any way, however insignificant it may appear, please call my team on 01277 266869 or you can call Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

There is still a reward of up to £10,000 for information leading to a conviction offered by the Crimestoppers charity for information passed directly through them.

COMPETITIONS

WIN Tickets to the breathtaking British Military Tournament

BACK for a fourth year, the unforgettable and breathtaking British Military Tournament returns to Earls Court on December 7-8.

The theme of this new and exciting show is 'British Legends'... and it is set to have audiences perched on the very edge of their seats.

This week we are giving you the chance to win one of five pairs of top price tickets to this must-see event.

Commentated by leading British actor Anthony Andrews, this year's tournament will present dramatic re-enactments, nail-biting high speed chases and daring stunts. And for the first time audiences will get a glimpse into the battlefields of the future using state-of-the-art technology.

The British Military Tournament is a great day out for all the family. Arrive early and enjoy the fantastic exhibition area, meet serving members of the Armed Forces and marvel at the legendary military kit including an Apache helicopter, a Jackal AFV, a replica Chinook and a Spitfire.

You will also get the rare opportunity to see the BLOODHOUND supersonic car and the Second World War 2 Enigma machine from Bletchley Park, as well as take part in live codebreaking.

For a chance to win one of five pairs of top price tickets to this fantastic show, answer this simple question:

Which leading British actor will be providing the commentary at this year tournament?

You can email your answer to competitions@hertsessexnews.co.uk www.harlowstar.co.uk/Whats-On-Leisure and follow the entry instructions.

The closing date for entries is noon on Tuesday, October 22.

Over the past three years the tournament has raised in excess of £450,000 for the three national service charities of Britain's Armed Forces.

If you are not one of our lucky winners, by purchasing tickets you are helping to support every generation of the UK's military family.

Terms and conditions

Prize tickets are for the 7.30pm performance on Saturday, December 7 only. Tickets are subject to availability. Prize cannot be transferred, transport is not included and no cash alternative is available.

WIN Tickets to Met Opera season at Cineworld Harlow

OPERA fans in Harlow can look forward to enjoying five live performances... without leaving town.

Harlow Cineworld is screening a season of Met Opera performances over the next few months and we are giving one reader the chance to win pairs of tickets to all nine. The operas are:

The Nose (October 26), Tosca (November 9), Falstaff (December 14), Rusalka (February 8), Prince Igor, (March 1), Werther (March 15), La Boheme (April 5), Così Fan Tutte (April 26), Cenerentola (May 10).

For your chance to win one of five pairs of top price tickets to the show, answer this simple question:

Who composed La Boheme?

You can email your answer to competitions@hertsessexnews.co.uk making sure you put 'Star Opera' in the subject line. Alternatively, enter online at www.harlowstar.co.uk/Whats-On-Leisure and follow the entry instructions.

The closing date for entries is noon on Tuesday, October 22.

Prize time for our Superkids winners

THE winners of this year's Star Superkids photo competition were presented with their prizes on Friday.

Three of the four youngsters who polled the most votes in their age categories attended the presentations at the Matalan store at the Water Gardens to receive their winning canvases.

They were also presented with Matalan vouchers by store manager Liz Bignall.

The Star Superkids winners were:

0-9 months: Lily Hunt, of Shawbridge, Harlow.

10-18 months: Oscar Brown, of Spring Hills, Harlow.

19-36 months: Xanthe Manktelow, of Burley Hill, Harlow

4-6 years: Madison Lintonbon-Baker, of Little Grove Field, Harlow.

Star editor Ken Morley, who presented the canvases, said: "We had many lovely entries for this year's competition. Well done to all our winners, it was lovely to meet them."

"We would also like to thank Matalan for hosting this year's competition."

Boy, 13, torched neighbour's car in act of revenge

A 13-YEAR-old boy who set fire to a parked car in an act of revenge on a neighbour has been made the subject of a 12-month referral order.

The youth, who cannot be named for legal reasons, poured petrol over the Volkswagen Golf and threw a lighted stick onto the vehicle.

He then walked away and telephoned the fire brigade. He later confessed to police that he was responsible for starting the fire.

On Monday he appeared at Chelmsford Youth Court where he admitted a charge of arson.

Angela Hughes, prosecuting, said that in the early hours of September 22 police were alerted by the fire service who had attended the area in Harlow at about 4.30am.

"There was extensive damage to the car which was burnt beyond recognition," said Miss Hughes. "Officers at the scene received information this defendant phoned police to say he was responsible and when interviewed he told them how

star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

he set fire to the car and the reasons why.

"He said it was revenge because of issues with the family of the owner of the car. He said he took a stick and petrol, poured the petrol over the roof and windscreen and threw the lighted stick over the car. He didn't stay to watch."

Miss Hughes said he was of previous good character without any convictions, warnings or reprimands.

Gareth Hunter, representing the youth, said he was deeply regretful for what he had done.

"He actually phoned the fire brigade and police himself to tell them what had happened. There was no explosion, the car simply burned."

Mr Hunter said there was an on-going neighbour's dispute and the boy took action after something that had happened earlier in the day.

Chair of the bench Margaret Webb told the youth: "This was dreadfully irresponsible and it is always taken seriously. However, we have heard all the circumstances including a degree of provocation."

"This could have been dealt with by a custodial sentence but we are going to give you a chance to live a life."

"We have also taken account of the fact there were no injuries and no one was in the vicinity."

She added the court would make no compensation order "because of the overall situation in the neighbourhood." However, she warned him that if he does not behave during the period of the order he could be brought back to court and resentenced.

Under a referral order youths who have offended for the first time and have pleaded guilty have to attend meetings accompanied by their parents, with specially trained panels in a bid to address what has happened and prevent any re-offending.

Peters & Company Solicitors

Who we are

Peters & Co are a Harlow based firm specialising in all areas of Family Law and Mental Health law. We are one of the few firms in the area to have been awarded a contract with the Legal Aid Agency to carry out legal aid work in Family Law and as such we are able to advise and represent clients on a wide range of family issues such as Divorce, financial settlements for both divorcing and unmarried couples, post and pre nuptial agreements, separation agreements, children disputes such as Residence and Contact issues and cases where Social Services have intervened to remove the children from the parent's care.

The Family Law team consist of Theodora Charalambides and Dipal Patel. Theodora is a vastly experienced Solicitor who has specialised exclusively in Family Law for the past 10 years. She is a member of the Law Society's Family Law Advanced Accredited Family Law Panel which aims to recognise practitioners who have obtained a high level of knowledge and expertise in Family Law. Theodora's specialist areas of practice are Domestic Violence and Private Children Law matters.

Dipal is a solicitor who has specialised in Family Law for the past 7 years and deals with all areas of Family Law. She is a member of Resolution which is a national organisation of family solicitors aimed at resolving family disputes in a non confrontational manner using a cost effective approach. However, Dipal will vigorously pursue court applications where necessary.

Our Approach

Our Family Law team aim to make the process of using a solicitor as painless and hassle-free as possible. As well as being able to provide legal solutions, we assist our clients to manage their stress by providing sensible "common sense" advice in managing their emotions which understandably will be running high during this difficult period.

In addition, and unlike many firms who continue to charge for services on an hourly rate, for those people who are ineligible for Legal Aid, we offer very competitive fixed fees, tailored to suit individual clients needs. Our fees are transparent meaning that you know exactly how much your case will cost at the outset. We also offer a pay by instalments option which will assist our client's budget for their legal costs

Stuart conquers fear to celebrate his mother's life

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A LOVING son decided to mark the birthday of his late mother by jumping out of a plane from 10,000ft and releasing her ashes during the descent.

Stuart Kelman, 43, of Bellfield Gardens, Harlow, is afraid of heights but decided to conquer his fear in order to celebrate his mother's birthday and release her ashes as well as raise money for charity - and was able to organise everything in half a day.

"My mum, Eileen Kelman, passed away before Christmas last year of Alzheimer's," said the father-of-three. "It was her birthday on October 2 so I was wondering what to do on what would be a difficult day to celebrate her life.

"At the same time I was thinking about something to conquer my fear of heights. A sky dive was mentioned and my wife said to me 'you would never do a sky dive'. I'm one of those people that once that has been said, I have to do it.

"As I was thinking about something special for my mum and as she died of Alzheimer's, I thought it would be fitting to help the Alzheimer's Society, too."

Stuart, a fitness instructor and swimming teacher, then got in contact with the charity as well as a skydiving company and after explaining his aim of wanting to celebrate his mother's life through a skydive, everything was set.

"It was all done in about 12 hours. Then I just let all my friends and family know what I was doing," he said. "I had my mum's ashes and I wanted to release them out into the universe and this seemed the best way to celebrate her and her birthday.

"We couldn't do the dive on her actual birthday due to the weather but we did it the day after and it was great. There was no fear which was surprising.

"The feedback and response I've had is phenomenal and really humbling. I wanted to raise £400 but as it stands I've currently raised £992. It's amazing."

Fundraisers host a charity fun day

A GROUP of fundraisers joined forces to raise money for women and children in Syria.

After only three weeks of preparation, a group of Muslim sisters from Harlow held a successful fun day at Passmores Academy.

Their fundraising efforts have so far raised more than £4,000, with the fun day raising £3,714.

The money will be donated to Aid Convoys which is leaving in December to help people living in Syrian refugee camps.

Samantha Njie: "It was a great success and we are already thinking about what fundraising event to do next.

"We would like to thank the community for their support."

Runner joins forces with gold medalist

A HARLOW teacher has joined the team of Olympic gold medalist Iwan Thomas for the Great South Run next Sunday.

Andy Kitson, 39, was one of only 10 fundraisers handpicked to join the Olympic athlete as he tries to win a charity challenge against Spice Girl Mel C - who completed the Great North Run last month.

Andy, who is raising money for St Clare Hospice at Hastingwood, was inspired to join Iwan's team after his mother-in-law died of cancer.

He will be marking the third anniversary of her passing with the run on October 27.

Andy, who is head of maths at Leventhorpe School, said: "It will be such a fantastic way to mark my mother-in-law's anniversary.

"I hope that being part of team Iwan will help spur me on to raise even more money for a charity that is so close to my heart."

A helping hand for grandparents

A NEW support group for grandparents who act as carers will be holding its first meeting next Thursday (October 24).

The group, which is affiliated to the Grandparent's Association, aims to provide support and advice for grandparents who are caring for youngsters.

The first meeting will be held at Moot House from 11am-2pm and all grandparents are welcome to attend.

The group hope to hold regular monthly meetings for members. For more information call (01279) 428040.

St Clare Hospice lottery winners

THE winner of the £1,000 first prize in the St Clare Hospice lottery drawn on Friday, October 11 is the holder of ticket number 733861. The winner lives in Harlow.

The second prize of £100 was won by ticket holder 713362, who also lives in Harlow.

Relaunch for cardiac support group

A SUPPORT group providing help to local heart patients and their families has relaunched after acquiring new funding.

The Heartsease Cardiac Support Group helps patients through their ongoing recovery by organising regular meetings, social fundraisers and arranging for guest speakers to visit the group, all in a hope to help build their confidence to return to a good quality of life.

The Harlow-based group, who also support residents across Essex, meet at Tye Green Community Centre in Bush Fair and invited several of the town's health organisations to host a stall at the relaunch event.

Group chair of Marion Cooper said: "Our relaunch was to mark a new start by expanding on our support to those who have been diagnosed with coronary heart disease.

"We offer them a place to come with their families and friends to understand a bit more about the disease and offer a place for them to help each other through a very difficult period in their lives."

Essex Foundation Trust provided the group with the much-needed funding boost which has helped Heartsease secure a venue for future meetings.

The group, which is affiliated with the British Heart Foundation, also welcomed a new patron - leading consultant cardiologist Dr Jeremy Sayer.

Three arrests as police target town's roads for a crackdown on crime

THREE people were arrested during a police operation to improve road safety and crack down on crime in Harlow.

More than 200 vehicles were stopped and checked during 'Operation Surround A Town' last Wednesday.

Officers carried out roadside checks and mobile patrols around the town during the operation which was also part of Essex County Council's 'No Excuse' campaign to raise awareness of offences such as speeding, driving while using a mobile phone and not wearing seat belts.

Offenders were identified by officers patrolling in cars or on motorcycles or through Automatic Number Plate Recognition technology. The vehicles were then escorted to check sites at the Hastingwood roundabout above the M11 and at Southern Way.

Three people were arrested on suspicion of importing drugs, for not wearing a seatbelt, failing to attend court and for non-payment of a £1,500 fine, and on suspicion of assault.

Four vehicles were seized for insurance offences, two drivers were found to have invalid driving licences and 10 vehicles had no MOT. A total of 98 drivers were referred to retraining courses after being stopped for using mobile phones, not wearing seat belts or speeding.

Twenty-five other offences were dealt with including overweight commercial vehicles and driver hours offences.

Among the overweight vehicles were a van carrying beer which was 69 per cent overweight and another van which was 51 per cent overweight. A scaffolding truck which was stopped after the driver was seen using a mobile phone was prohibited from the roads due to tyre defects. It also had an insecure load, no MOT and was 20 per cent overweight.

Essex County Council road safety officers were at both stop sites to give advice to drivers who had been stopped for various offences. Officers from HMRC and VOSA were also involved in checking drivers and their vehicles.

Tax shock for family told to sleep in 'dining' room

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A FAMILY-of-four have been told they must fork out an extra £13 a week in council tax because their dining room is classed as a bedroom.

Peter Buss said he only found out the downstairs room in his council house at Longbanks, Harlow, was designated a bedroom when the Government's so-called 'bedroom tax' meant he received a demand for the extra cash because the property was under-occupied.

Mr Buss, 39, who worked in construction until he underwent surgery for a back injury earlier this year, said: "We have a two-bedroom home. My wife and I sleep in one room and the children sleep in the other.

"Downstairs we have a dining room which is apparently supposed to be the third bedroom. But we didn't even realise the house was classed as a three-bed until we got hit by the bedroom tax and were sent a letter saying we were in arrears.

"When we asked the council where the third bedroom was they told us it was the dining room downstairs."

Mr Buss and his wife Christine, 36, have been living in the house for four years. They have an eight-year-old daughter, Lacey, and eleven-month-old baby son, George.

Mr Buss added: "The house became a three-bed in April when they decided that the dining room could be a bedroom. No-one sleeps there; we don't use it as a bedroom. It just seems stupid and unfair.

"We asked to see blueprints and we've been told we can't. We just don't believe this house has always been classed as a three-bed. No-one told us; it's ridiculous."

Cllr Rod Truan, the council's cabinet portfolio holder for housing, said: "This property is typical of the style of some other three-bedroom homes built in Longbanks in the late 1960s. It has always been a three-bedroom home and before April 2013 this was reflected in the rent being charged.

"Following the Government's changes to housing benefit this property is being classed as under-occupied. We don't agree with the changes but have to follow the rules. If a bedroom has been converted to a different use it will still count as a bedroom when deciding whether a home is under occupied."

He added: "We will, where we can, review individual cases like when a home has been adapted to cater for a person with disabilities.

"Tenants can apply for a discretionary housing payment which will be considered by the council. Since April the council has helped support 93 council tenants and 60 housing association tenants most in need with discretionary housing payments."

Your Essex is changing

let's talk about it

Have your say...

...on bus services
run by Essex County Council.

Essex County Council wants your views as it starts a review of its Bus Strategy and how it provides financial support to local bus services.

Essex County Council pays for nearly 200 local bus services (approximately 15% of the bus network in Essex) which generally run in the evenings, on Sundays or in rural locations.

The review is needed to ensure that the bus services provided by the Council meet, as far as possible, the essential travel needs of Essex residents and also offer the best value for taxpayers. It is important for the Council to understand your views, what your travel needs are, what matters to you and what type of service you think are most important.

The consultation began on Monday 16 September and will close on Monday 9 December. For more information, to take part in this consultation or to view a list of the bus services the Council pays for, please visit www.essex.gov.uk/busreview

Please note, approximately 85% of the bus network in Essex is commercial and this means that Essex County Council does not pay for them and does not determine how or when they run. These services are not part of this consultation.

Christmas Parties

Have you booked for the festive season?

As anyone who has ever organised the office Christmas party will tell you, it can be a tricky business trying to keep everyone happy.

Within any workplace there are different groups of people with many different ideas on what to do. Making sure everyone is catered for can be a real challenge but with a little organisation, you can ensure it will be a big success.

When deciding on the party venue, you should take into account everyone's circumstances. Before booking make sure your chosen venue is easy for everyone to get to and from.

One of your most important considerations is to book early. It goes without saying that the best venues are often the most popular and if you're catering for large numbers you will need to get something booked as soon as possible.

Will you be opting for a traditional

Christmas dinner or something a little more unusual?

There are some fabulous venues in and around our local area that can cater for all budgets and tastes. Whether you're just organising drinks and a meal or have been asked to organise entertainment there is a wealth of choice locally.

Once you've made your choice and secured your booking you can sit back and look forward to the party!

And the winners are . . . Join us at presentations of business awards

THE finalists have made their pitches, the judges have voted and now all attention turns to the awards nights.

In three weeks the winners of the 2013 Harlow Star Business Excellence Awards will be revealed during a ceremony at the Manor of Groves Hotel in High Wycombe.

The cream of Harlow's business community will be gathering for the presentation of the awards, which are being held in association with the Harlow and District Chamber of Commerce.

From an initial entry of more than 70 nominations, a shortlist of finalists was drawn up and they were invited to take part in Dragons Den-style pitches to a panel of judges drawn from the local business community.

The finalists made their case in the form of 10-minute presentation followed by a question-and-answer session at Harlow Football Club last month. The judges then reached their decision and the results will be announced at next month's award ceremony.

There are eight categories - Business Innovation, Business Growth, Apprentice of the Year, Small Business of the Year, Best New Business, Green Award, Business Person of the Year and Business of the Year.

Guest speaker at the black tie ceremony will be Vic Goddard, principal of Passmores Academy in Harlow.

Tickets for the night cost £45+VAT each or £405+VAT for a table of 10. To purchase tickets email karen.ball@hertsessexnews.co.uk or call (01223 434397) or tom.bircham@hertsessexnews.co.uk or call (01223 434354). Please include details on how many tickets you want and invoice details.

The price of the ticket includes a three-course dinner.

GUEST OF HONOUR: Vic Goddard, principal of Passmores Academy

BORN and raised on a council estate, Vic Goddard has worked his way up through the system from a PE teacher via head of department and a brief stint in Cairo to being one of the most high profile, controversial, innovative and bluntly passionate heads in the country.

Anyone who watched the Channel 4 series Educating Essex will know that already.

A qualified and experienced dive master to boot, Vic only brings drive, creativity and innovation to the role, he also brings the human touch to what he unashamedly describes as 'his other family'. In his own words: "If you saw the programme you'll recognise me; I'm the one crying."

Since the airing of the BAFTA-winning show in the autumn of 2011, Vic has been very much in demand, speaking to headteacher conferences such as the National College and the ASCL as well as talking to audiences of new teachers, encouraging them not only to embrace teaching as a profession but also have the ambition and drive to aim for headship.

NOSTALGIA

Team photograph kicks off readers' memories

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

An author's memories and a photograph of his time on the Passmores School football team back in 1965 has brought a swift response from other Nostalgia readers who were able to list the names of the players.

Tony Dixon, 60, of The Stow, sent in the photo and a poem he wrote about his time on the team. "I can recall everyone bar the person on the far right who is standing," he said.

That provoked a response from David Nelson, a director of Eirscot Civil Engineering, who got in touch.

"I also attended Passmores School at this time and I am informed by my brother that I am also in the school team photograph, although I can't recognise myself," he said. "I am told I am the chubby lad in the back row far right."

"I can see others that I believe I recognise as Lindsay Dick, Raymond Moles, David Walsham, Colin Gates, Paul Morgan, George Jagnaseik and our teacher Mr Leeson."

John Coote, who also attended Passmores from 1965-72, emailed Nostalgia to share his memories.

"The pupils in the team were a school year above me and as I recall friendships tended to be very much within year groups," he said. "However, I believe the teacher to be Mr Leeson who I think used to wear a purple track suit which was quite avant garde in the mid-sixties!"

"The pupil front row second left is unmistakably Lindsay Dick, a Scottish lad whose elder brother Murray turned out to be a very good golfer at Canons Brook."

"I know that my friend Mark Rowe's elder brother, Stephen, was in that year and he was friendly with Ray Moles, but if he is there I cannot pick him out."

David Smith, 60, who now volunteers at a local school and helps coach football, was a member of the Passmores team.

"I can remember everyone there and it's brought back some great memories," he said, "I think this may have been the early team as I was the 12th player and I remember playing with only four or five of the players in the photo."

"The Passmores team I remember had some really strong players. We went to play outside of Harlow once as we'd won all our Harlow games."

Award-winner on the doorstep

AS Newhall just misses out on winning the Royal Institute of British Architects' Stirling Prize, Nostalgia looks at another award-winning housing development in the town.

Bishopsfield was built in 1966 and was the result of an architectural competition. The development, a ground-breaking design for its time, was the brainchild of 24-year-old Michael Neylan.

The brief set by Harlow gave architects greater freedom in their concepts.

Built on a design of courtyard and podium homes, the development won several awards including a prestigious Housing Design Award in 1969 and is still revered today by architects and housing enthusiasts as an exciting and innovative site of 256 dwellings.

Two homes in Bishopsfield were recently opened to the public as part of the Heritage Open Days programme.

Fuel duty freeze is good news but we still have more to do

As readers of the Star will know, I have been doing everything possible since becoming an MP to try and cut the cost of petrol and diesel.

There is some good news on this - the Government has said that there will be no more fuel duty rises for the next two years. This means that, in real terms, petrol will be 20p cheaper per litre by 2015 than if we had gone ahead with Labour's plans.

However, we need to do more and I will continue to campaign for a further fuel duty cut. We also need to put pressure on greedy oil companies which put prices up even when the price of oil falls all over the world.

Cost of living

The Government is trying to help everybody with the cost of living by raising the personal allowance. It recently announced that all disadvantaged students at Harlow College will receive free school meals as well as all children of infant school age.

On lower taxes, no-one will pay income tax until they earn over £10,000. Already we have cut income tax for 25 million people, but this change will mean 310,000 people across the south-east will be taken out of income tax altogether.

The Government will also introduce a married tax free allowance from 2015 worth £1,000, which will benefit four million couples. I was delighted when the Government recently announced that, from next year, all college students from disadvantaged backgrounds will be given free school meals - something which has never happened before. I campaigned for this hard over the last year and got 75 MPs to support me. I am pleased that the Government has listened, and is changing the law.

VIEW FROM WESTMINSTER

By Robert Halfon
MP for Harlow

What will also help hardworking Harlow families is that all children who are of infant school age will get free school meals every day.

Help to buy

The Government has already made it easier for residents in social housing to buy their own homes with big discounts (you can find out more at www.righttobuyharlow.com). Now it is making it even easier to buy your own home.

The Government will guarantee mortgages of up to 95 per cent for people who can afford mortgage repayments but cannot afford to pay a huge deposit.

This will give Harlow residents real opportunities to buy their own home. You can find out more about the scheme here - <http://sharethefacts.conservatives.com/helping-people-own-their-own-home/>.

Soccer stalwart Don dies at 62

david.rimmer@hertssexnews.co.uk

TRIBUTES have poured in following the death of a popular former non-league football manager.

Former Sawbridgeworth Town, Stansted and Takeley manager Don Watters, 62, of Fir Park, Harlow, passed away last Thursday night.

Mr Watters made his mark as a manager in the Essex Senior League and he had two spells as boss of Sawbridgeworth.

He also managed arch rivals Stansted and was in the hot seat when the club sold striker Gary Hart to League side Brighton & Hove Albion in the summer of 1998.

Arguably his greatest achievement was leading Takeley from the Essex Olympian League to the ESL in 2008. He left in October 2011.

At the start of last season he was manager of the reserves at Bishop's Stortford FC. He had also been boss at Harlow-based Nortel in the EOL and, before that, Cossors in the same League.

Stortford boss Rod Stringer,

RESPECTED: Don Watters

who has known Mr Watters from the days when he played for Cossor in the 1980s, said he knew of nobody else who contributed as much to local football.

"What a great guy. I don't know anybody, and I mean anybody, that I can put in the same bracket as Don Watters when it comes to loving football. That's at our level - grassroots," said Mr Stringer.

"From all the work he put in at Sawbridgeworth he did really well there, and obviously at Stansted and then he turned Takeley into a club at a senior level again.

"Don would then be out watching games on a Sunday morning and he was such a larger-than-life character."

He added: "Don ruled his clubs with a rod of iron and people knew that. He was a great lad, brilliant in the bar, but you knew where you stood with him. That was the great thing about him."

Takeley vice-chairman Dick Amott said: "He was football through and through. He had it written all over him."

"He did a lot for us to get into senior football and he gave us a great start in senior football."

Mr Watters, who had worked for office equipment and software firm Pitney Bowes in Harlow, is survived by his wife Avril, sons John and Mark, daughters Lindsey and Diana, six grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

His son John said: "The family have been uplifted by all the messages. We did not realise the amount of respect and admiration for him."

Details of his funeral had not been finalised by the time the Star went to press.

Plans for new medical centre get green light

PLANS for a new health centre to replace Lister House at Staple Tye have been given the go-ahead by Harlow Council's development management committee.

The two-storey building - which will include a 20,000 patient surgery, pharmacy and community health clinic - will be built on land designated as Green Wedge.

Harlow Civic Society opposed the scheme on the grounds that it would diminish the town's green spaces but the committee voted by a majority of four to one to grant permission.

Special coins to mark the royal christening

(BUT A SOLID GOLD ONE WILL COST YOU)

THE christening of Prince George - the baby son of the Duke and Duchess of Cambridge - is being celebrated with the release of special coins.

The Royal Mint has announced that it is producing a new £5 coin available in silver and gold as well as a larger £1,000 coin made of gold.

The coins, which are being 'struck' at the Royal Mint in Wales, feature an inscription flanked by two harp-playing cherubs. The motto at the foot of the coin is the traditional 'Dieu et mon droit' or 'God and my right' - the motto of Prince George's great grandmother, the Queen.

The cheapest £5 coin is likely to cost around £13 while the most expensive gold coin is likely to cost a whopping £50,000.

It's the first time the Royal Mint has produced coins to celebrate a royal christening. Prince George will be christened in the Chapel Royal at St James' Palace next Wednesday by the Archbishop of Canterbury.

Boxing champ Frank makes sure jobs fair packs a punch

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

FORMER world heavyweight boxing champion Frank Bruno made a guest appearance at the second Harlow Jobs Fair on Friday.

Frank joined event organiser and Harlow MP Robert Halfon at Harlow Leisurezone where 68 businesses - including Kier, Asda, Stansted Airport, Accuro and Harlow College - had set up stalls.

Mr Halfon said: "I am over the moon at having Frank Bruno here and also how well it is going."

"We have 68 organisations here. It's the second jobs fair I have organised and I'm hoping to do this every year now because I want the people of Harlow to find work."

"We have everything here and a real variety. If one person gets one job then the six months of planning has all been worth it. To have someone like Frank here is amazing and a real motivational boost."

Frank told the Star: "The jobs fair is great. There are people that have come from all over the place and there are some nice stands."

"Hopefully people will get jobs out of it. There are some companies providing 87 job opportunities so it's great."

Organisers shared Mr Halfon's enthusiasm, Job Centre Plus relationship manager Liz Hand said: "It is a great opportunity for our customers to meet employers and find out what they need to do to secure those jobs."

"We've had lots of queries from jobseekers as well as those who have recently been made redundant who want to find out more about our services and financial help they may be entitled to."

A spokesman for Stansted Airport, which was one of the event sponsors, added: "It has been great. We are very proud to be here and in fact to be sponsoring the fair as well."

"We have about 100 jobs available and are really keen to be talking to prospective employees as there are always opportunities available at Stansted."

A spokesman for local firm Mosaic Recruitment added: "The fair provides an excellent opportunity for us to meet local candidates and local employers. It's a really good networking event and, after being here last year, we were very keen to sign up for this year's fair."

Labour hopeful backs petition pushing for a freeze on energy bills

LABOUR Party activists in Harlow were joined by parliamentary hopeful Suzy Stride and Tottenham MP David Lammy for a day of action on energy prices.

They were drumming up support for a petition launched by the local party which calls on the Government to freeze energy prices, a move they claim will save a typical household £120 and an average small business £1,800.

Ms Stride said, "Every week I meet people who are struggling because of increased energy bills. Many people's bills have gone up on average by £300 since 2010 and we know many families in Harlow may struggle to heat their homes this winter which is heartbreaking."

"When the price of energy increases energy companies pass this on but when it drops consumers don't see their bills fall."

"Many businesses in Harlow are telling me times are tough. Bills are going up and people are working harder to make ends meet which amounts to a cost of living crisis for people in Harlow - and a threat to our local economy."

"But businesses and people need help now so I'm calling on David Cameron to take action and freeze our bills now and I'm asking local people and businesses to sign my petition so that the voices of Harlow are heard loud and clear in Downing Street."

More than 200 people have now signed the petition which can be viewed at www.labour.org.uk/freeze-that-bill.

Airport campaigners launch legal challenge

CAMPAIGNERS are set to launch a legal challenge to the possible expansion of Stansted Airport.

Pressure group Stop Stansted Expansion has submitted a request for a judicial review so it can raise its concerns in court over the criteria used to select options for increasing airport capacity.

If successful, SSE hopes to force the Airports Commission to redetermine the "sift criteria" and to delay publication of any shortlist of options.

Stansted Airport owners Manchester Airports Group has asked the Airports Commission to consider it for the location for the UK's future hub airport, a move which SSE claims would lead to up to 160 million passengers a year passing through the airport compared to last year's figure of 17.5 million.

SSE's legal challenge centres on concerns over the role played by Geoff Muirhead, one of five commissioners appointed to the Airports Commission last year. He was chief executive of MAG but quit the role ahead of the company's acquisition of Stansted in February, retaining a paid role as an ambassador for the firm.

Mr Muirhead resigned from the commission last month when the Department for Transport insisted there had been no evidence whatsoever of bias.

Brian Ross, SSE's economics adviser, said: "With proposals on the table from MAG to make Stansted the world's busiest airport, with four runways handling up to 160 million passengers a year, there is far too much at stake to allow the issue of apparent bias to go unchallenged."

Ambulance trust appoints director of service delivery

THE East of England Ambulance Service Trust has appointed a new acting director of service delivery.

Rob Ashford has 25 years ambulance experience with his most recent post being sector leader for Essex within EEASt.

He started his career in Patient Transport Services in London and in 2005 joined Essex Ambulance Service as general manager for West Essex. Following the merger of ambulance services, he was chief operating officer for the Bedfordshire and Hertfordshire area before moving to West Midlands Ambulance Service as chief operating officer in 2008.

A PRIVATE hospital on the outskirts of Harlow has been awarded a prestigious national accreditation for the quality of its endoscopy service.

The endoscopy unit at The Rivers Hospital in High Wycombe provides diagnostic tests for patients experiencing problems with their digestive system. Last year it performed 4,000 examinations.

The hospital has now received accreditation from the Joint Advisory Group in recognition of its standards of safety, quality and training. The hospital was judged on a number of measures including written policies and procedures, unit design, standards of cleanliness, equipment and staffing levels.

Patient care and comfort were also assessed with reviews of patient information, privacy and dignity, waiting times and patient satisfaction surveys.

The assessors who carried out the inspection said: "The culture is clearly

Hospital praised for high standards set by endoscopy team embedded and not just pulled together for the sake of the inspection. Staff are happy and like working here and patients experience good quality care."

Hospital matron Monica Clarke said: "I am delighted that the commitment and dedication of the endoscopy team has been recognised with the JAG award, which endorses our focus on the highest possible care for our patients."

Cat and 2 kittens 'were left to die' in recycling box

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A WOMAN out walking her two dogs was horrified when she stumbled across a recycling box containing a young cat and her two kittens.

The 59-year-old had taken her dogs for a walk in a field near Brook End at Sawbridgeworth when they started sniffing at a blue bin which had been dumped in long grass.

"It had a big boulder on the top of it and it was taped up," said the woman, who has asked not to be named.

"I wasn't going to open it but the dogs were so focused on it that I did and I found three young cats inside."

"When I opened the box it was filthy. I had to ring a friend to come and collect the dogs because they did not like the cats."

The woman took the cats home where she fed them, placed them in a clean box and took them to be checked over by a vet.

"The vet said that it was a mother and her two kittens," she said. "The kittens weren't any older than 12 weeks and the mother was less than a year old, so not much more than a kitten herself."

She added: "The vet said they must have been in that box for around three days which is absolutely disgusting."

"The way I found the recycling bin they didn't have a chance. Disposing of animals in this way has to stop; it is not the way animals should be treated."

The cats were taken to Bishop's Stortford Veterinary Hospital where they were bathed and given rigorous health checks. They are now said to be doing well despite their ordeal.

"The owner's treatment of those cats was disgusting," said the woman. "They left them there to die."

In & Around HARLOW

Family-run plumbing business with a reputation for high-quality service

FAMILY-run plumbing and heating business CF Oakes has been established since 1958 and in that time has built up an enviable reputation for a quality, professional service.

Originally set up by Charlie Oakes, the business is now run by Steve Oakes and his wife Jackie, who took charge in 1979. Their eldest son Tom has been working with the company since 1996 and youngest son Sam joined in 2005.

The business is well known for its fabulous high-quality bathrooms and kitchens but can carry out all plumbing, heating (including underfloor heating) and building work. They pride themselves on offering a complete service from the initial design through to final installation.

Based in Harlow, CF Oakes has an extensive showroom where you can see a variety of fitted kitchens and bathrooms on display to give your ideas and inspiration. There is something to suit all requirements and you can also see a selection of kitchens and bathrooms on the website at www.cfoakes.co.uk.

The company covers a wide area including Bishop's Stortford, Sawbridgeworth, Epping, Loughton, Hertford, Hoddesdon, Ware, Cheshunt, Chipping Ongar, Stansted and Brentwood.

As a long established, family-run company, people know CF Oakes is a name you can trust and much of their work comes from personal recommendation. You'll always receive a friendly, personal service at a competitive price.

CF Oakes is Gas Safe registered (Gas Safe register number 123) and all work is guaranteed.

Whether it's a new kitchen or bathroom you want or just want expert, friendly advice on any aspect of plumbing or heating, call CF Oakes on (01279) 421182 or 07836 736202. You'll also find the company on twitter @cfoakes.

CF Oakes is open from 9am - 5pm Monday to Saturday. There is plenty of free parking available at the showroom.

GEMMA GARDNER

gemma.gardner@hertsessexnews.co.uk

THIS weekend Harlow Playhouse will be lifting the lid on a dark secret.

From Saturday members of the public will be invited to explore a labyrinth of storm drains uncovered during recent building works at the theatre.

Accessed via an entrance in the basement known as The Hatch, the drains aren't for the faint-hearted or claustrophobic... and will require explorers to crawl on their hands and knees.

The story goes that back in 1953 the drain was the location of a terrible accident when six schoolgirls were overwhelmed while taking cover in the entrance tunnel during a particularly bad storm.

The bodies of all but one of the girls were never recovered. And the one who survived the tragedy - 13-year old Florence Quinn - took her own life after suffering from hallucinations.

Speaking in the weeks afterwards, Florence spoke of the spirits of her friends appearing to her. She also suffered dreams of drowning in the storm drain herself.

Playhouse manager Scott Ramsay told the Star: "Anyone working at the theatre over the last 40 years will know about the flooding that periodically occurs in the area beneath the stage. My understanding is that these buildings lie on what were originally reed beds and underground streams still flow under them.

"I guess the original architects of the town centre put in the storm drains to alleviate the worst of the water incursions.

"What's particularly interesting, now that we've been able to get into the drain system, is the huge sink tank that exists under the orchestra pit area. It's about 12x8 feet with an astonishing depth of about 20 feet. What's disconcerting is that to continue beyond that you have to climb down a ladder that takes you beneath the water level.

"The lighting levels aren't great but there's just enough to make out the details of this original Harlow feature, and we're delighted to be able to open it up to the public for a limited period.

"We hope people will come along. They're bound to be surprised by what they find."

The Hatch was awarded the 'best new scare attraction' at The Scare Awards 2012 and is suitable for 14+ only. This theatrical experience lasts for 12 minutes and places cost £4 in advance or £5 on the door.

For times and to book a place, call the box office on (01279) 431945 or visit www.playhouseharlow.com.

Stepping into the arena of comedy

STUDENTS from the Makin' Steps Performing Arts group will be venturing into new territory when they present a comedy showcase at the Victoria Hall Theatre in Old Harlow on Saturday.

Performers as young as four will be taking part in an evening of sketches and play extracts with pieces including works by the Monty Python team, Rowan Atkinson, John Godber and Catherine Tate.

Head drama tutor Jim Thompson, said: "This will be a fabulous show especially if you are in the need of cheering up, and it will highlight how talented the students are.

"Some of the adult performers have been a revelation. It is amazing how many people gave up acting after they left school and how much talent has remained dormant all this time.

"For some adults it's the first time they have performed as actors but you wouldn't think so if you watched them."

There will be two performances on Saturday - a 3pm matinee and a 7pm evening show. Tickets cost £8 (£5 for under 16s). To buy tickets call (01279) 304937.

O'Connell exhibition a first for gallery

THE Gibberd Gallery in Harlow is the first in Britain to host a retrospective exhibition of works by artist Michael O'Connell whose use of the wax resist process produced vivid and vibrant colours which are still intact today.

O'Connell, who lived at Perry Green and taught in Harlow and nearby Ware, was a key figure in contemporary textile design.

The works on display in The Lost Modernist exhibition have never been shown in Britain as an entire collection before and they have brought back "wonderful memories" for sisters Betty Clarke, and Iris Dedman.

Known as the Sheridan sisters before they were married, they worked with O'Connell at his Perry Green home during the early 1950s, helping him create many of the pieces on display at the Gibberd Gallery.

"It's a wonderful exhibition and quite exciting to have it all together like this," said Iris, 77. "We really want to show people the exhibition which is in such a beautiful setting."

Betty, 82, added: "We're very pleased with it, it brings back some wonderful memories.

MEMORIES: Betty Clarke and Iris Dedman next to one of the exhibits at the Gibberd Gallery

"I remember sewing up pieces and working on different parts. We did a lot of bedspreads and pieces for people's private homes as well as huge pieces for the Festival of Britain. There was a lot of work involved - and heavy work as well - but we loved it."

Betty, who worked on the huge test piece depicting the Scottish Highlands which is on display in Harlow, said: "I remember having to climb a ladder to sew the two parts up. Most of the pieces were huge and we're only small but it was fantastic."

Iris, who stopped working for the artist in 1954, said: "The colours were incredible. We didn't know what colours they would be until the paste, which was grey, had been washed away."

"It's a beautiful exhibition. The Lost Modernist has been found."

>> The Lost Modernist is at the Gibberd Gallery in Harlow Civic Centre until December 20 and features textiles, silks, garments, sketchbooks and ephemera. Entry is free

HARLOW PLAYHOUSE Playhouse Square, Harlow (01279) 431945

DRAMA The critically-acclaimed theatre company Transport reinvents Shakespeare's As You Like It, one of the Bard's most popular comedies. Banished from her homeland, Rosalind journeys into the wild depths of the forest to find her exiled father. Tonight's (Thursday) performance starts at 7.30pm and tickets cost £14.

DRAMA Global Productions return to the Playhouse with an adaptation of Willy Russell's classic Educating Rita. University lecturer Frank (David Millard) needs to earn some extra money so he agrees to tutor Open University student Rita (Lucy Ashton) - a brash, earthy hairdresser with a recently discovered passion for higher education. In her attempts to appreciate literature, Rita challenges the attitudes of a traditional university and teaches Frank to question his own understanding of his work and himself. The show opens tonight (Thursday) in the Studio Theatre and runs until Saturday, with performances starting at 7.45pm. Tickets cost £11.

MUSIC Legendary American pianist/singer Buddy Greco and his wife of 20 years - Las Vegas star Lezlie Anders - will be entertaining audiences with an evening of hits including The Lady Is A Tramp, Around The World, The More I See You, Girl Talk and MacArthur Park. It promises to be an evening of fabulous music, great stories and a lot of fun. An Evening with Buddy Greco & Lezlie Anders is at the Playhouse tomorrow (Friday). The show starts at 7.30pm and ticket prices range from £17-£19.

MUSIC German comedy ambassador Henning Wehn is a fountain of knowledge but what he knows best is that his comedy shows are a guaranteed success. Recent TV and radio appearances include Matt Lucas Awards, QI, Dave's One Night Stand, The Now Show, Fighting Talk and his own six-part Radio 2 series Henning Knows Best. See Henning perform live at The Playhouse on Saturday. The show starts at 7.30pm and tickets cost £14.

MUSIC AC/DC tribute band AC/DC UK run through the Australian rockers greatest hits at the Playhouse on Sunday. The show starts at 7.30pm and tickets cost £14.50-£17.50.

THE GALLERY Parndon Mill, Harlow (01279) 426042

ART This year's Glasshaus VII glass exhibition features new works by Parndon Mill artists Heike Brachlow and Louis Thompson as well as contributions from artists from London Glassblowing and Sunderland. The exhibition - which showcases blown, cast and kiln-formed glass - runs until November 3. The gallery is open Tuesday to Friday from 10am-5pm and on Sunday from 2-4pm. Admission is free.

GATEHOUSE ARTS West Gate, Harlow (07530 048739)

ART The 'secret postcard' exhibition returns to the town centre gallery following the success of last year's event which raised more than £200 for charity. The postcard-sized pieces of art created by amateur, professional, local and international artists is now on display in the gallery in West Gate. All are open to bids in a silent auction which takes place next month to raise money for St Clare Hospice and Association for Cultural Advancement through Visual Art (ACAFA). Postcards fall under a number of genres including photography, painting, textile and pencil drawings. The gallery will also be holding an open studio weekend on Saturday and Sunday from 11am-4pm.

Where's the wildlife?

ANYONE who's been gardening for some years may well have noticed that, as time moves on, the wildlife which once frequented British gardens is becoming a rarer sight.

In May, the State of Nature report compiled by 25 wildlife organisations found that, for a range of reasons like loss of habitat, 60% of the 3,148 UK animal and plant species assessed have declined in the past 50 years. Hedgehog numbers have also reduced by a third since the millennium, and tortoiseshell butterflies, once common in gardens, have declined by 77%.

"What's most alarming is that many of the 'common' garden species – hedgehogs, house sparrows, starlings and common frogs, for example – are becoming much less common," says Helen Bostock, Royal Horticultural Society (RHS) horticultural advisor.

"Historically these species have done well in our gardens and so their decline is something we really need to sit up and take notice of. This is where gardeners can make a difference and help to halt the declines we're seeing by making their gardens more wildlife friendly. This should be a wake-up call to all of us."

With this in mind, the RHS and The Wildlife Trusts are spearheading a new initiative called Wild About Gardens Week. The event, backed by celebrity gardeners Diarmuid Gavin, Matthew Wilson and Sarah Raven, runs from October 25-31 and is urging the public, plus the RHS's 3,300 community gardening groups, 17,250 schools and 145 partner gardens, to hold wildlife gardening events during the week. A microsite (www.rhs.org.uk/wildaboutgardensweek) has been set up for groups and individuals to log events.

GARDENING TIPS by Hannah Stephenson

Chris Baines, vice president of The Wildlife Trusts, says: "The nation's gardens are hugely important for wildlife and as a habitat network they are second to none."

"Inner-city balconies and courtyards, the suburbs' hedgerows and lawns and the orchards and allotments of market towns and villages all have the potential to be incredibly rich habitats for wildlife."

"There are many simple ways in which we can make our gardens naturally richer. Nest boxes, birdfeeders, log piles, nectar plants, fruiting shrubs, wall climbers and ponds all improve the life chances for many garden creatures and, as each of us improves our garden habitat for wildlife,

LESSER SPOTTED: Hedgehog numbers have reduced by a third since the millennium

the plants and animals that we attract will bring more pleasure in return. It's a win-win situation."

Throughout Wild About Gardens Week, talks and events will be held at the four RHS Gardens and Wildlife Trusts visitor centres. There will also be wildflower seed giveaways by the trust and the public will be asked to 'Do One Thing' – whether to create a pond, build a hedgehog house or simply put out some bird seed.

Here are a few suggestions from the celebrities backing the scheme:

- "This week gives you the perfect excuse to be a bit lazy and let the grass grow long – research has shown that the lawn contains more native species than any other garden feature," –

Diarmuid Gavin

- "Nature isn't particularly tidy – the countryside is full of piles of leaves, rotting wood, dying plants, nooks and crannies. Taking a more relaxed and less tidy approach to our own gardens benefits wildlife by providing similar habitats and food sources. In turn this keeps the garden more balanced and a lot more healthy," – Matthew Wilson

- "Make a point of planting a pot of cosmos next year. They flower for many months and are stacked full of nectar at just the time our pollinators appear to be going short," – Sarah Raven
- "Get hold of a cheap sponge and soak it in a bucket of sugary water (dilute at about one part sugar to four parts water). Pop it out in the garden for butterflies to munch on – they love it!"

David Domoney

The Wildlife Trusts and the RHS will be offering free advice and resources via the website www.wildaboutgardens.org.uk and via the RHS Advisory Service.

Hanks takes charge as a master of crews control

CAPTAIN PHILLIPS
certificate 12A, 2h14m

TOM Hanks charts a steady course towards a deserved sixth Oscar nomination for his tour-de-force portrayal of an unlikely hero in this nerve-racking thriller.

Based on the book A Captain's Duty by Richard Phillips and Stephan Talty, this expertly crafted picture dramatises the true story of an American seaman whose cargo ship was hijacked by Somali pirates in 2009.

Working from a lean script, director Paul Greengrass demonstrates once again why he is one of the finest directors of nail-biting action. If you thought the Surrey-born filmmaker had peaked with the adrenaline-pumping thrills of The Bourne Supremacy and The Bourne Ultimatum, think again. From the moment the Somali pirates first appear on the radar, Captain Phillips leaves us feeling seasick with tension until the extraordinary final scene that releases all of that pent-up emotion in a torrent of tears.

Captain Phillips (Hanks) kisses his wife Andrea (Catherine Keener) goodbye and takes charge of his cargo vessel, the Maersk Alabama, bound for Mombasa, Kenya. On board he is aided by a hard-working international crew including Chief Mate Shane Murphy (Michael Chernus) and Chief Engineer Mike Perry (David Warshofsky).

When pirates are spotted off the stern, Phillips telephones the authorities who at first dismiss the threat. There then follows a tense game of cat and mouse which culminates in the pirates boarding the vessel by hooking their makeshift ladder over the side of the boat.

Phillips conceals the crew below deck in the engine room while he takes charge of the situation. Faced with threats from Muse and his hot-headed compatriot Bilal (Barkhad Abdirahman), the captain puts himself in harm's way to ensure the safety of every man on board.

When the stand-off spirals out of control, the destroyer USS Bainbridge, captained by Frank Castellano (Yul Vazquez), races to the scene. But Phillips realises the gravity of his predicament and the potentially tragic outcome.

Captain Phillips is one of the year's best films, blessed with a terrific ensemble cast who rise magnificently to the physical challenges.

Hanks is flawless - we can see his mind whirling as he engineers distractions to keep the crew safe - and final gut-wrenching scenes bring him, and us, emotionally dry.

Abdi delivers a striking supporting performance, adding depth and complexity to a role that could easily have been a caricature.

Greengrass's propulsive direction, coupled with Christopher YOUNG's hyperkinetic editing and Henry Jackman's heart-pounding orchestral score, leave us scant time to gasp for breath.

ESCAPE PLAN
certificate 15, 1h55m

The film opens at Bendwater Federal Prison where structural engineer and security expert Ray Breslin (Sylvester Stallone) has been incarcerated to test the facility from the inside.

He identifies weaknesses and orchestrates a jailbreak from solitary confinement with the assistance of his team on the outside: right-hand woman Abigail (Amy Ryan) and technical genius Hush (50 Cent).

No sooner has Ray returned to the land of the free than his partner, Lester Clark (Vincent D'Onofrio), organises a meeting with CIA agent Jessica Miller (Caitriona Balfe). She offers five million dollars if Ray will abandon his usual protocols and go deep undercover in a top secret prison designed to hold the men that society wants locked up for life.

Despite the misgivings of Abigail and Hush, Ray agrees and adopts the guise of a Spanish terrorist called Portos. He quickly realises that his mission is bogus and he is imprisoned for real under the watchful glare of sadistic warden Hobbes (Jim Caviezel) and his murderous henchman, Drake (Vinnie Jones).

With no obvious means of escape from a state-of-the-art facility full of Perspex cells, Ray befriends fellow inmate Rottmayer (Arnold Schwarzenegger) and on-site medic Dr Kyrie (Sam Neill), and a daring plan takes shape.

TURBO
certificate U, 1h35m

When we first meet Turbo he is toiling in the tomato patch with his ultra-cautious worrywart brother. But unlike his fellow snails, Turbo has big dreams: he yearns to emulate the achievements of his hero - French-Canadian Indianapolis 500 champion Guy Gagne (Bill Hader).

So Turbo trains hard, managing to slither the distance of a standard ruler in 17 minutes. But after he is sucked into the engine of a street-racing car and coated in nitrous oxide which fuses with his DNA, he is capable of performing bursts of death-defying speed.

Turbo becomes the star attraction at mollusc races organised by taco truck driver Tito (Michael Pena) at a rundown strip mall on the outskirts of town. The truck driver then exploits a loophole in the rules of the Indianapolis 500 and enters Turbo alongside Gagne.

Supported by the other racing snails - Whiplash (Samuel L Jackson), Smoove Move (Snoop Dogg), Burn (Maya Rudolph), Skidmark (Ben Schwartz) and White Shadow (Michael Patrick Bell) - Turbo risks everything to defy Mother Nature and out-manoeuvre his arrogant idol.

When eccentric young boffin Flint Lockwood (Bill Hader) came up with a food replicator that turned water into food he was acclaimed as a hero. But after cheeseburger rain and spaghetti tornadoes devastated the island of Swallow Falls, everyone had to flee.

Flint thought he'd destroyed his invention but he was wrong. On returning, he discovers that the food left behind has been evolving and now Swallow Falls is populated by bizarre food animals ranging from toothy tacodiles to lumbering hippopotamuses.

The only way to stop them invading the mainland is to shut down the machine for good. And that means embarking on an epic journey from the breakfast bog all the way to the big rock candy mountain, battling the likes of cheespiders and fruit cockatiels.

Aries 21 March - 20 April
Life gets even more intense this week, as Mercury reverses in Scorpio and later, as the Sun moves into the deep sign too. Joint finances may have been an issue for some time, but this week you'll need to be extra careful about signing anything important or taking on extra debt. You might also get the opportunity to resolve a tricky money issue - hopefully once and for all. Call for more...

Taurus 21 April - 21 May Relationships, whether platonic, budding or long-term, seem to be a major focus this week, especially once the Sun pitches up in Scorpio. With Mars stirring up your romance zone, and Mercury entering its cyclical turnabout phase, some interesting conversations may show up. Be careful of expectations that could disappoint, however. Call me for your love scope in full...

Gemini 22 May - 21 June
As Mercury is your personal planet, you may notice the retrograde phase more than most. It begins this week in your work and wellness zone. Although you'll need to watch out for errors and delays, you also have the potential to resolve a situation that's been bothering you for some time. A little application may work wonders. Call me now for more news and astral advice...

Cancer 22 June - 23 July
Creative and romantic options look promising, especially once the Sun moves into Scorpio. A lovely Sun and Neptune link may bring a chance for a tender date night with a love interest or partner. However, if you're looking for fun in general, joining a book club or movie society could introduce you to folk who have both depth and insight. Call me for your love scope in full...

Leo 24 July - 23 August
Finances may be important this week, especially your personal money situation. Money associated with your home and family needs care too. You may need to budget for domestic needs, as Mercury turns volte-face for a few weeks. Yet, there's also the possibility of finding inspired ways to earn a little extra - should you need it. Call me now Leo, for your financial forecast in full...

Virgo 24 - 23 September
With Mars now animating your sign, you may feel ready for anything. Yet Mercury, your personal planet, takes a reverse position at the start of the week, which could cause confusion or a few delays. Therefore, this can be a good time to explore your options rather than setting out on a new path. Despite this, there's lots of fun to be had at your home base. Call for your in-depth forecast...

Libra 24 Sept - 23 Oct
Personal matters have been important for some time, but may need extra care as Mercury reverses early this week, bringing potential delays. It's maybe an idea to keep documentation, especially linked with any purchases or contracts you commit to, as there's a chance you may want a refund or need to review a recent decision. Call for your financial forecast in full...

Scorpio 24 Oct - 22 Nov
As Mercury goes through its revision phase this week, you may find yourself taking a trip down memory lane, or picking up an idea that you had abandoned. Aspects of the past may play an important role in the present. The Sun enters your sign midweek, so you may feel a burst of energy and a renewed determination to follow your star. Call now for your in-depth forecast...

Sagittarius 23 Nov - 22 Dec
Relationships of all kinds may go through an interesting phase which could last for a few weeks. Mercury begins its more introverted phase early on, which could coincide with a reunion. Whether it's an old flame or friend, the chance to chat could result in an interesting proposition. If you feel like taking more time out to relax - go with it! Call now for more news and advice...

Capricorn 22 Dec - 20 Jan
Attention is focused on your social zone, with an opportunity to not only link with new faces, but to connect with old friends too. You may feel motivated to get involved in community plans or projects, or even to consider a reunion. Meanwhile, a Sun Neptune link can put you in touch with someone who may be inspired by an idea of yours. Call now for more news and astral advice...

Aquarius 21 Jan - 19 Feb
Joint finances may be stirred up by Mars, which might encourage you to look into ways to resolve any debt problems, or perhaps to be more enterprising in general. There's also a major focus on your career zone, especially once the Sun moves in midweek. You could have a few decisions to make. You may be required to review your options carefully. Call for your in-depth forecast...

Pisces 20 Feb - 20 March
There may be an edge to relationships, as folk you meet up with, including those close to you, may seem more edgy or picky at this time. However, they might have a few practical suggestions which could help you to realize a dream or goal. Meanwhile, Mercury's retro journey could cause delays with travel, but this might however also pave the way for fresh experiences. Call for more...

Stunning five-bedroom home set in grounds of four acres coverpropertyLocation High WychCategory Five-bedroom detachedAdditional Stunning views, sizeable grounds, separate gymPrice £1,295,000Agent Howick & Brooker, Gothic House, High Street, Old Harlow. Telephone (01279) 418888

APPROACHED via its own private drive, this recently built home is located in what is probably one of the quietest and most secluded locations within the High Wych area.

The house sits in grounds of about four acres which would be ideal for equestrian use as it is predominantly level and laid to lawn. However, there is plenty of scope for other recreational additions such as a tennis court or swimming pool.

As you enter the house your eye is drawn to the far-reaching views from the entrance hall which has a galleried feel with stairs leading down to the lower ground floor.

The beautiful ground floor kitchen/diner features a range of state-of-the-art appliances and this room has stunning, uninterrupted views from two aspects. Another eye-catching feature is the bi-fold doors which lead out to a large decked area.

The lounge also has great views and there is space for a wood burner. A large reception room at the far end of the house also has an additional study and modern cloakroom.

The master bedroom is a generous size with more bi-fold doors that lead out to a private patio. There is a well-appointed modern en-suite and made-to-measure wardrobes in the bedroom.

There are a further four double bedrooms, two which have en-suite facilities.

As well as the sizeable grounds there is a detached carport and separate gym. The property is supplied with water from its own bore hole.

For full details of this property or to arrange a viewing, contact selling agents Howick and Brooker on (01279) 418888.

Tracey Waples Property Editor

WITH the recent announcement that the Government is launching its Help to Buy scheme allowing potential home buyers to take out 95 per cent mortgages three months, the Prime Minister has rejected fears that it will fuel a housing bubble.

He has gone on record as saying the market was "recovering from a very low base" and first-time buyers needed help to get on the housing ladder.

"If we don't do this it will only be people with rich parents to help them who can get on the housing ladder," said Mr Cameron.

There's no doubt about it, the property market is moving. More people are looking to buy, more money is being lent in mortgages, completed sales are up and in many areas prices are starting to rise too. So whether you're a first time buyer or not, will it really be easy to borrow the money you need?

Although there are more deals around for people with smaller deposits, Sue Anderson of the Council of Mortgage Lenders says it can be just as tricky to get a mortgage now as it has been for the past few years.

"It is easier in aggregate for people to borrow, but for a particular person in particular circumstances it may not have become any easier to borrow," she says.

"If you are unable to verify your income adequately to meet the lender's new, exacting standards or want to borrow a high loan to value mortgage and don't have a big deposit, it is still very difficult," she added.

Long gone are the days when you could simply stroll into your local bank or building society branch, tell them how much you earn and expect to be offered a suitably large mortgage more or less there and then.

Offers in excess of £240,000

THIS attractive family home in Torkildsen Way, Harlow, is within easy reach of the town centre, Town Park and train station.

The mid-terraced property has three bedrooms and two bathrooms, one of which is en-suite to the master. There is also a ground floor cloakroom.

As a relatively new property there is still two-years left of the Barratts guarantee and seven years remaining on the NHBC.

Yours for £385,000

THIS extended family home is in one of Old Harlow's most attractive streets and within walking distance of Harlow Mill station and shops.

There is an open plan lounge/dining room, stylish fitted kitchen, three double bedrooms with an en-suite shower room to the master bedroom, and a family bathroom.

To the front is a driveway with parking space for two cars and a garage. At the rear is an enclosed garden.

Intercounty's Old Harlow office has full details of this property on (01279) 639666.

Great value for £299,995

THIS link detached home at Newhall is in immaculate condition, having been well cared for by the current owners.

There is an open plan lounge/kitchen and four bedrooms. The master bedroom has windows to two aspects and an en-suite shower room.

There is a well-designed courtyard garden and a carport providing covered parking with space for two cars.

Centurion Property Services can provide full details on (01279) 417234.

Studio apartment for £100,000

SMALL but perfectly formed, this ground floor studio apartment in Granary Court, Sawbridgeworth, is in good decorative order throughout.

The apartment has a living area/bedroom as well as a stylish kitchen and bathroom and an inner hall/storage area.

There are electric storage heaters and a new electrically heated hot water tank.

Outside there is one allocated parking space and additional spaces for visitors.

There are currently 69 years left on the lease. The ground rent is £25 per year and the current owner is paying a monthly service charge of £43.

Mackay Property Agents has full details of this property. Call (01279) 600567 if you would like to make a viewing appointment.

The Benefit of Independence

Location, location, location may be the cornerstone of wise property investment, yet many people are unaware of the importance of location in making the right choice of estate agent whether buying or selling.

Estate agency is an intensely local business. It is essential that agents are fully conversant with the issues of the day relating to the buying and selling of property within what is often no more than a mile or two from their office. Preferably they should themselves be resident in the area in which they are selling.

At Geoffrey Matthew Estates we are more conscious than most of the overriding importance of providing a local service, delivered passionately by local people. Perhaps this is one of the reasons why we enjoy such a good atmosphere in our offices. Most of our staff, including our Director s live in Harlow, and most of them have been with us for many years.

This combination of experience and local expertise delivers an unsurpassed and intense market knowledge of the immediate local area, meaning that property buyers and sellers can expect to receive the most relevant and up to date comment and opinion when it comes to property valuation, market intelligence and strategic marketing advice.

In our experience, too many estate agencies simply have token representation in the area, with a mobile workforce managed by remote directors concentrating on building an empire, rather than earning the loyalty and respect of local people over the years.

We believe that close customer contact, regular communication and straight-talking expert advice is what the public deserves. This can only be delivered via a wholeheartedly independent and thoroughly local estate agency with its clients best interests at heart. As a buyer or seller you have a choice of agency, so choose wisely! Choose GEOFFREY MATTHEW ESTATES.

Local Property Comment

Alan Howick
01279 401902

It's looking better ..

Over the last few months the market has almost turned around on itself and has become very positive.

Although the market hit a brick wall in March 2007, Harlow as a market place continued to be vibrant especially with first and second time buyers despite the national media and so called property experts saying otherwise. In fact, Harlow has continued a growth over the last few years and in recent months become very bullish.

This is also evident in higher price ranges with the popular price range rising from a ceiling of (say) £350,000 this time last year to a more encouraging half million.

If you ask a competitive price, more often than not, you will achieve your expectations although a level of caution should be given with those bright sparks who have been encouraging some ridiculous asking prices which throws everything out of sync and also misleads your budget.

You can be aggressive with your asking price providing you don't take the xyz out of the market!

So, it's looking good for the remainder of this Year and hopefully the continued growth will run well into 2014 where we expect the market to become more active in the higher price ranges as well.

APH.

The power of rightmove.co.uk.... it's not all about the BLING !!!!

A couple of years ago a friend of mine gave me the tipoff that a friend of his was thinking about putting his house on the market. His house had already been valued for £1.2m. It wasn't in Harlow but not far away.

It sounded like this friend had already decided that he best choose an agent with that "upmarket feel", with offices in London and Surrey.

I was given his number and I tried so hard to convince him that once a property goes live on rightmove, it could be sold in a matter of hours. I even agreed a discounted fee which nobody could match!

Guess what?

The first viewer literally skipped down the driveway with lots of enthusiasm but waving those rightmove details. A price was agreed and a few weeks later it exchanged contracts. On completion he paid that agent £25,000 plus vat.

He told me afterwards that my words were ringing in his ears as he glanced down and saw the rightmove details in his buyer's hands. He knew that Centurion could have done exactly the same job but at a fraction of the fee.

The penny dropped when he realised that a buyer buys the house and not necessarily the agent.

Food for thought.....

MATT JOY

AN SUV that drove like a car might have seemed like a fancy idea back in the Nineties, but the BMW X5 changed the rules.

Here was a car that had the tough (but stylish) looks of a proper 4x4, and as much off-road ability as all but the hardcore could require. And yet it was comfortable, fast and handled well; chiefly because its underpinnings owed nothing to Victorian engineering.

In 2013, the landscape is totally different. All the major premium players offer luxury SUVs that put on-road comfort and handling at the top of the priority list, but also offer varying degrees of mud-plugging ability.

But the X5 is back in its third iteration and faces its toughest challenge yet.

There's no doubt that the new model follows the visual path set by the previous one; there are detail changes rather than a whole new look, but those changes have enhanced what was already a good-looking machine.

ECONOMY: 45.6mpg (combined)
CO² RATING: 162g/km

There are more scoops and air intakes at the front and even down the side – the X5 is the first X model to get the 'air breathers' on the front wings that improve air flow around the wheels for reduced drag.

As before, the X5 looks best on bigger wheels. The M Sport trim will, therefore, have the most kerb appeal; with 19-inch wheels as standard plus an M Sport bodykit it has more presence than the SE model as well as a few other welcome goodies.

Don't expect radical change on the inside either, but then BMW has made subtle evolution of the interior into something of specialist subject.

The instruments are crystal-clear and understated, with a small display in the lower quarter to offer a range of information. The main display screen would put some laptops to shame, while the latest version of i-Drive is even easier than before.

And that's before you factor in the feel-good factor that you get from the cabin. There's leather even on the entry-level SE model, so whichever version you plump for you can expect luxury, comfort and space.

The quality of the materials remains first-rate, and with such refinement from the drivetrain, comfortable seats and an impressively-smooth ride, your brows will remain distinctly unfurrowed from behind the wheel.

From launch the xDrive30d SE kicks off the range, and that six-cylinder diesel unit has been tweaked for even better results. There's an extra 13bhp and 15lb.ft of torque which is good news all round because better efficiency pays at the pumps too; fuel consumption is reduced by 7.4mpg and emissions are down 33g/km to 45.6mpg combined and 162g/km respectively.

From behind the wheel, you'll simply notice that the engine and gearbox are a wonderful pairing. It's easy to forget that the six-cylinder unit is actually a diesel, as it's impressively quiet when cruising and yet supplies a pleasing thrum when you demand acceleration.

There's plenty of it too – 0-62mph is despatched in less than seven seconds and with the super-sick eight-speed gearbox juggling ratios seamlessly, it's easy to access the performance.

It still drives with the genuine BMW spirit too. The steering is keen and, when pressed, it corners with a level of assurance that should be beyond a car of this size and shape. But more importantly, the rest of the time the X5 is as comfortable as you could wish for.

There are four different suspension options over and

Scrap Cars

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle. That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

No. of pupils 1045

FACILITIES MANAGER, FULL TIME, 37 hours per week, 52 weeks per year GRADE: BAND 4 POINTS 30 - 34

This is a new post with enormous scope for the right candidate to be involved in exciting and challenging future developments at Stewards. We need someone with experience of working at a senior level, strong team leadership and inter-personal skills, and a successful track record in premises/facilities management. Work in an educational setting would be an advantage.

You must be flexible and able to respond to whatever comes your way, enjoy problem solving, and have a "can do" attitude to work. You will be centrally involved in all the many special events that we host, and will often have to think on your feet. You must be available for out of hours call-outs, and will be responsible for security and health and safety.

Application material is available from www.stewardsacademy.org,

CVs are not acceptable - only use the Academy's application form.

DEADLINE FOR RETURNED APPLICATION FORMS IS FRIDAY 1st NOVEMBER 2013. PLEASE ENSURE CORRECT POSTAGE

Visits are most welcome by arrangement with The Personnel Officer.

Stewards Academy is committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of young people, and is a No Smoking site.

Research Data Technician Great Dunmow, Essex

Agrii harnesses the power of skilled agronomists and the best agri-intelligence to deliver unrivalled expertise and support for sustainable and profitable farming systems.

We are looking for a Research Data Technician to join Agrii's R&D team, based at our Throws Farm Technology Centre in Essex. Throws Farm is currently undergoing a multi million pound upgrade and this appointment is part of our ongoing commitment to innovation and technology.

The role is full time and mainly office based, with some outside tasks during busy periods. Whilst previous agricultural experience is not essential, you need to be highly skilled with Microsoft Excel and preferably have an understanding of statistical analysis and data interpretation. Training will be provided on specific software programmes; therefore a willingness to learn is essential. You will be numerate, inquisitive, self motivated, and have an eye for detail.

We offer training, an attractive package and career development opportunities with the UK's leading arable technology provider. To apply for this role, please send full career details and cv (in strict confidence)

Closing date for applications 31 October 2013

Harlow favourite Bowen set to return for Rockets

THE dust might have only just settled on an injury ravaged season for Rye House, but Rockets promoter Len Silver is already looking ahead to next year's campaign – and is set to re-sign former Mark Hall School student Luke Bowen.

While much depends on what is decided at November's annual BSPA Conference, including the set up of the leagues and rider averages, the bulk of this season's squad – including Olly Allen, Jason Bunyan, Anders Mellgren, Pontus Aspgrén, Tyson Nelson and Jason Garrity – have all expressed their desire to ride for the Hoddesdon speedway team in 2014.

Bowen (27) sat out last season recovering from a broken thigh and has taken his return slowly, choosing to wait until pins were removed from his leg before getting back on his bike.

This tactic paid off as he finished runner-up on his competitive return at the Silver Ski Holidays Championship last month – ahead of Rocket Kasper Lykke, who has been one of the weak links in the side, blowing hot and cold in the reserve berth most of the season.

Brought up in Harlow and known as the Harlow Flyer, Bowen sustained his injuries in a horrific accident in June 2012 at a speedway meeting.

Rye House Rockets team manager John Sampford was impressed by Bowen's racing comeback. "He rode incredibly well, considering he has been out of the saddle for some 15 months," he said.

"He totally exceeded everyone's expectations, including his own. To use a Rockets analogy, he is over the moon about it!"

Looking back at this season, Silver said: "From a results point of view this season was disappointing having lost key riders at key times – the obvious one being Garrity, which was a major blow for us. I genuinely believe that if we had not had any injuries we would have been in the play-offs and in there battling for the title.

"It's very early days to be thinking about the side for next year as we're not even sure of the make up of the league, let alone the team."

"I've got riders in mind and two or three different permutations but until we know what rules we're running under, and who we're racing against, it's difficult to make any decisions."

"The big event we're working on here at the moment will be an airbag safety fence at the track which will mean we need to completely redesign the current fence."

Silver will be hoping that Garrity is fully fit by the start of next season Rockets' first home match – likely to be on Easter Sunday.

Garrity revealed that he had made a mistake in taking his cast off too early after he broke a leg in May. "I felt I was on top of my game until the injury," said Garrity. "I felt I had made the step up to the next level. But then I broke my tibia. I took the cast off after four weeks as I thought it would be a good idea to get back on my bike."

"All speedway riders do stuff like that – but it was probably too early, and the first time I rode it really hurt. Since then it's not been right and I can't blame anyone but myself."

"I've got all my options open for next season, but I'm going to train over the winter and see how the leg feels."

Town schools dominate at West Essex Champs

TWELVE schools participated in the West Essex District Schools Cross Country Championships in Harlow, including students from six secondaries from the town.

Some 500 pupils contested the six races at Burnt Mill.

The first six to cross the line in the junior and intermediate boys and girls races were selected to represent the district in the Essex Schools Cross Country Championships in January.

In the Year 7 boys race David Badmus (Mark Hall School) secured a narrow victory ahead of training partner and Mark Hall School mate Chay Cooper.

David had veered off course, but still managed to win the 2km race.

Another close race was in the Year 7 girls race, which saw Rosie Bennett (Burnt Mill) first in the 2km race. Sienna Taylor (Burnt Mill) was third.

The junior boys race (Year 8-9) was won by Year 8 student Lewis Harknett

The junior girls race saw Year 8 girl Kyesha Robinson (Burnt Mill) break clear over the final 300 metres to win by

60m. St Nicholas student Mia Hiron, a training partner of Kyesha's, was third in the 2km

The inter boys 4km race (Years 10 and 11) saw Mark Hall student Canaan Solomon record an excellent win.

Burnt Mill student Rian McKnight was second with Mark Hall student Ben Patterson in third.

The inter girls 4km race was won by Mark Hall student Jodie Ratcliffe, ahead of Stewards pupil Rosie Poole in second after Mark Hall student Alicia McArdell was forced to retire with a leg injury while lying in second place.

Organiser Neil Coster, head of PE at Burnt Mill, said: "We were extremely pleased with how the event went and saw participation from all 12 schools in the district with some wonderful individual performances."

"We've also seen the quality of endurance running and athletics improve in the area and we'd like to think that the WESSA cross country is a good springboard for that talent to develop."

Top three veteran title for Murtagh at Great Eastern Run

HARLOW Running Club member Steve Murtagh completed the Great Eastern Half Marathon at Peterborough in 45th place out of 3,842 finishers.

He was third in the veteran 45 age group, clocking an excellent 1 hour and 16 minutes.

He was followed home by Lyndon Cooper in 56th place in a personal best (PB) time for the distance of 1:17.03.

In their debuts at the distance, Sandra Rust was 1,393rd in 1:49.24 and Sarah Marriage was 3,114th in 2:11.21.

At the Ware 10 mile race Jamie Jephcott finished in 20th place out of 307 finishers in a superb 68.59.

He was followed home by son Daniel in a PB of 73.46 and there were also PBs for Andy Ramage (91st, 80.55), Holly Nairn (152nd, 89.03) and Michelle Aitken (216th, 95.50).

Other Harlow runners' times were: 48th Nick D'Alton 74.01; 60th Jamie Luck 76.41; 83rd Mark Hayward; 79.50; 95th Matt Jones 81.20; 130th Janice Page 85.10; 136th David Page 86.00; 165th Terry Pike 90.35; 196th Lyndsey Hodge 93.47; 212th Clair Adams 95.13; 215th Deborah Smith 95.36.

At the Tiptree 10 Mile race John Tennant finished in 61st place out of 286 finishers.

He was fastest in the vet 60 age group, clocking 1:12.27 and Vicky Calver was 280th in 1:59.49.

Andy Kinney completed his 75th half marathon at Zagreb in Croatia, finishing in 748th position out of 1,123 finishers in 2:03.29.

At the Lee Valley 10K Adrian Fell finished in 14th position in 40.23 and Robin Lozeau was 76th in 48.29.

At the Gunpowder Park Run 5K at Waltham Abbey, John Bull finished in 5th place out of 83 finishers in 21.26 and Lozeau was 20th in 23.31.

At the Chelmsford Park Run 5K, David Page finished in 79th position out of 218 finishers in 23.44 and wife Janice was 81st and first veteran 50 in 23.48.

At the Willow 10k at Hatfield Clare Airey finished in 70th place out of 649 finishers in 48.59.

At the second of three Hatfield 5K races Adrian Fell finished in 30th place out of 132 finishers in 18.43. He was followed by Sean Flynn (68th, 21.31), Sharon Wright (73rd, 21.39) and John Tennant (91st, 23.22).

At the Chelmsford Parkrun 5K David Page finished in 68th place out of 218 in 23.48. His wife Janice was 70th and 1st veteran 50 lady in 23.54.

Ladies emerge with credit from top test

HARLOW Ladies suffered a 20-12 home defeat against National Challenge South East North One division leaders Woodbridge Amazons on Sunday.

The Suffolk side had dominated their opposition in the three league matches played so far.

In all three they had only conceded just 11 points.

However, they met a strong and committed Harlow squad who pressured them all the way, adding another 12 to their points against.

The Harlow forwards were dominant with good rucking and mauling which the visitors found hard to handle.

The Woodbridge backs were strong, using great running moves to create space and despite fierce tackling by Harlow it just gave them the edge.

However, Harlow prevented them from scoring a fifth try which would have given them a bonus point.

Meanwhile Harlow gained a bonus point for finishing within 15 points of Woodbridge's score.

Sonia Rochester and Sarah McCarthy scored the Rams tries.

Jen Tennent converted one of those tries.

HARLOW (squad): Nathan, Boggas, Wooller, Rochester, Lee (capt), Marshall, Steel, Snell, Smith, King, Mills, O'Donnell, McCarthy, Tennent, McKenna, Bryant, Stimpson, Mockridge.

● HARLOW'S men's second team triumphed 64-24 at home to Basildon in the Essex Merit Table division two on Saturday.

It was Harlow's first home game this term.

They conceded two tries in the first five minutes but hit back immediately to level the score before 10 minutes had elapsed.

From then onwards they dominated the game, running in a series of tries.

Michael Watts and Kurtiss Knightly both scored hat-tricks, James Clark scored two tries, while Ryan McGlone and skipper Ross King also both got on to the scoreboard.

Knightly added to his points tally by converting eight of the tries.

Rams need commitment to 'breed competition'

Cantabrigian Harlow 23
5
(RFU London & South East, division three north east)

RAMS senior coach Lee Harron wants more commitment from the club's younger players before he considers them for first team selection.

Harlow went down 23-5 at Cantabrigian in RFU London division three north east on Saturday. It was a third successive league defeat for the Rams.

One positive for Harlow has been the continued success of younger players in the club's second team, but Harron will not promote them until they start attending training on both Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Harron said: "The players coming through are not bad. But they are not going to train [on a Tuesday]. I want them [here] to put pressure on these guys in the first team."

The younger players, performing superbly for the club's second team (see report top right), will only train on a Thursday.

Training was an issue for first team players last term, but Harron says there has been a big improvement in this area. But he desperately wants to see more commitment from the second team players, and ultimately put pressure on the first team places.

"I say to them 'get here Tuesday' and then I can put one against one. I want them here Tuesday and Thursday which is what the rest of the boys are doing," he said. "We can't do some things on a Thursday because it's too close to a Saturday [match day].

"Then there will be more competition for places. A first team player won't think his place is safe - it breeds more competition."

The returning Ali McCormick converted an early penalty for the hosts Cantabs on Saturday.

Then after a phase following a marauding run from Jon Perks, Francois Eve picked up from the base of a ruck and strolled in under the posts, and McCormick's conversion made it 10-0.

Following a Harlow indiscretion at the breakdown, McCormick added another penalty to make it 13-0 at half-time.

Harlow got the first try of the second half when skipper Shaun Roberts touched down after the forwards drove over the line from a five metre line-out.

Cantabs' Luke Munby was sin-binned soon after.

The referee had warned both teams that the next transgressor at the breakdown would be yellow carded, and Munby did not heed the official's warning.

Harlow then lost Gareth Powell to the sin-bin for not rolling away.

When Munby returned Eve swooped on a poor pass to intercept the ball and run in his second try of the afternoon before McCormick kicked another penalty.

Cantabs had to weather the last five minutes with 14 men as Chik Knox-Macaulay was sin-binned for not rolling away at the breakdown, but Harlow were unable to make use of the numerical advantage.

Harron added: "We are creating chances. Against Beccles we created six and scored five. Against Cantabs we created six or eight but just could not finish. I would be more worried if we weren't creating chances. It's a bit hit and miss. We are getting in behind sides but we are making errors."

The Rams are eighth in the 12-team table and face second-placed Wanstead in their next game in nine days' time. "We could be right up there. It's getting that consistency," Harron added.

Ten-player side take heart from valiant effort

A HEROIC, battling display with only 10 players meant Georgina Smith's Harlow Ladies team could take heart from their performance rather than the final result against Maldon in the Essex Women's Hockey League premier division.

A fast start on Saturday saw the hosts go 2-0 up early on.

Despite having only 10, the visitors rallied and scored when an interception from skipper Smith resulted in a goal.

From 2-1 down Maldon bounced back and made the extra player count.

A lifted ball deflected off Julie Castle to give Maldon a 3-1 lead.

Play was briefly halted for an injury, however the Harlow players stayed positive and battled on.

Some good passing followed and opportunities were there for the taking.

Maldon scored a well executed goal off a post and another own goal was squeezed in past the Harlow keeper Linda Rowley.

"Despite being 5-1 down we kept our heads and spirits up," said Smith.

Maldon failed to add to their lead from two more short corners after some resolute Harlow defending.

However, in the last few minutes Harlow's 10 players run out of steam and Maldon struck twice more from good moves to seal a 7-1 win.

Harlow's player-of-the-match was Petra Trimble.

HARLOW: Rowley, Castle, Chambers, Hansson, Shearman, Spencer, Trimble, Thomas, Turner, Smith.

● A 9-1 loss against Upminster IV in division four of the Essex Women's Hockey League completed a miserable weekend for the ladies section at the club.

Harlow's second team only had nine players.

They conceded only two goals in the first half, and scored from a short corner as the whistle blew for half-time.

This came from a push from Emily Taylor and a strike from Sarah Alderson.

Harlow started the second half with a new vigour, pushing through the Upminster defence and seeing some great runs from the forwards Lucy Dearman and Emily Taylor.

However, Upminster's extra players held sway and three more goals were scored, despite the greatest efforts from the defence of Sam Care, Olivia Figg and Lauren Johnson.

The tide then turned as Harlow's players became tired and four more goals were scored to complete the scoring.

Harlow Hockey Club is keen to recruit new players. Anyone aged 14 and over who would like to join should contact the club via the email address: sarah-alderman@hotmail.com

Hawks land major sponsorship deal

BY ALAN SCOTT

alan.scott@hertssexnews.co.uk

HAWKS chief executive Tommy Cunningham says the future is bright for Harlow Town after securing a five-figure sponsorship deal with City of London foreign exchange company OPTFX.

The Harlow Town FC players will carry the name of the company on their shirts next season. "It's fantastic. Things are going in the right direction," enthused Cunningham.

The club are also re-branding Barrows Farm as The Harlow Arena, and will unveil this scheme officially in November.

Harlow have also signed up a lucrative deal with six-a-side football league company Leisure Leagues. They will be based at the Elizabeth Way venue on Monday evenings.

"We are re-branding the stadium as The Harlow Arena," beamed Cunningham, who also unveiled plans for between 10 and 20 youth teams filtering through to the academy team. "We are putting a youth structure together. We are looking at the long term, not the short term," he said.

"That is why we want to get promoted, we want to launch a full-time academy next season. We will educate them."

The club have already spent more than £300,000 on a plush artificial pitch, and the investment has not stopped there as the playing budget was also dramatically increased this season.

Meanwhile, Cunningham

HAWKS CAN SOAR: Harlow Town FC's ground will be re-branded as The Harlow Arena. Inset, HTFC chief executive Tommy Cunningham believes there could be more player movement because of reliability issues with non-League players. "These players aren't contracted. You only get a certain amount of commitment. In the Ryman League, people let you down. We want to sign players with the right ability and the right mentality," he said.

"When you are dealing with semi-professional players, it's too easy for them to turn tail and go somewhere else when it's not going their way. That happens at the majority of [non-League] football clubs."

Cunningham says the side will build a minimum of 10 teams from the age groups U-7 to U-16, and these players will filter through to the academy and then onto the first team.

"Back in my time as manager [at Harlow] you had youth players heading to the reserve team. When we were struggling with [Danny] Green or [Kenny] Davis, we had others. We had the Gliddons to come in and help the side. At the moment we have not got that base."

However, with the acquisition of goalkeeper Darren Bechet for the rest of the season, plus other imminent signings to strengthen the defence, Cunningham believes results are ready to turn around on the pitch. "We want to get people here [now] for next year," he said.

Harlow have no game this Saturday for the second week running as Dereham Town are in FA Trophy action.

Finns look up for Gunners starlet Carl

HARLOW-born Arsenal player Carl Jenkinson became embroiled in the row ignited by Jack Wilshere's tweet about non-English players using the country as a flag of convenience when he starred for the England U-21 side in matches against Lithuania and San Marino.

Right-back Jenkinson, above, had already won a cap for the Finland U-21 side, but switched nations and played in these wins for Gareth Southgate's side.

Born on February 8 1992 in Princess Alexandra Hospital to a Finnish mother and an English father, Jenkinson has impressed this season for the Gunners.

Jenkinson is expected to switch teams again and play for Finland U-21s next month as he decides which nation to opt for eventually.

His Arsenal team-mate Wilshere tweeted about the issue of 'Englishness' last week amid speculation that Belgium-born Albanian Manchester United starlet Adnan Januzaj could adopt England.

Jenkinson has indicated he could pick England. He said: "I've got friends in the Finland team. But when England came knocking, I had to follow my heart. I have always felt English."

Of course the latest England hero is technically a Jamaican Cypriot - Andros Townsend. Perhaps Wilshere, caught smoking last week, should stick to talking about 'fags' of convenience.

Club building for future as Niaz quits playing

IT'S still early days but there are signs that Harlow Hawks Basketball Club can build and thrive without inspirational player-coach Shab Niaz.

The news that influential player Niaz would not be playing for the club this season was a huge blow, but it means there will be more opportunities for younger players.

Niaz actually played in the first game of the season due to a shortage of numbers, but will be mainly focusing on his coaching duties this term.

He explained: "I am focusing on coaching the senior team after hanging up my playing boots at the end of last season, the 0.01 per cent chance [of playing] being only if they were very short of players for a game."

There have been big changes at the club, who have lost one adult team and dropped down a division. "At the start of the summer we had sufficient players to be running teams in each division but over the course of July and August a few players dropped out but we were still OK," Niaz said.

"However in the last week of August there were a few more withdrawals and we were in a position where we did not have enough players in each team to fulfil all our fixtures, so we combined the teams to form a single squad of 16 players to compete in Herts division two. The focus is still firmly to develop for the future."

Harlow lost 63-57 to the Hertfordshire Basketball League new boys Hitchin Kings on Thursday in division two.

Hawks were ahead for three-quarters of the game before Kings had a big run in the fourth quarter and led by about five points with 90 seconds left on the clock.

Hawks got themselves back in the game to tie it all up, then they had a chance to win it as Rimantas Norkeliunas was fouled resulting in two free-throws with one second left on the clock. But he missed both and in overtime Kings narrowly out-scored Hawks.

A SEASON OF Culture 2013

12th December Royal Ballet Live performance of The Nutcracker.

Peter Wright's dazzling production of Tchaikovsky's magical festive ballet returns to Covent Garden. Tchaikovsky's enduringly popular Christmas ballet unfolds in two fabulous acts. Act one opens on Christmas Eve. Mysterious magician Herr Drosselmeyer gives young Clara a nutcracker doll. This sets in motion a train of events that leads to a midnight battle between an army of toy soldiers and the evil Mouse King, backed by his rodent hordes. It ends with a magnificent pas de deux in which Clara and her nephew Hans Peter celebrate the nutcracker's victory before being enveloped in a magical snowstorm. In Act two, the duo are whisked off to the Land of the Sweets. Here they meet the Sugar Plum Fairy and her Prince, who entertain them with a series of wonderful dances. First staged at Covent Garden back in 1984, Peter Wright's sumptuous and colourful version returns to the original 1892 Royal Ballet production for its inspiration.

31st October Halloween special National Theatre 50th Anniversary Encore performance of Frankenstein

Directed by Danny Boyle, starring Benedict Cumberbatch as the Creature and Johnny Lee Miller as Frankenstein. Danny Boyle's acclaimed production of Mary Shelley's gothic classic makes a triumphant return to Cineworld. Victor Frankenstein (Jonny Lee Miller) conjures up new life from body parts in his laboratory. But his grotesque, bewildered Creature (Benedict Cumberbatch) is cast out into a hostile world, meeting with cruelty wherever he goes. In between directing the Oscar-winning 'Slumdog Millionaire' and overseeing the breathtaking opening ceremony of the 2012 London Olympics, Danny Boyle returned to the theatre for this magnificent production. It's got amazing set design and evocative music by Underworld. But Boyle's masterstroke was to alternate the roles of Frankenstein and the Creature between his two stars. Benedict Cumberbatch, aka TV's Sherlock Holmes, and Jonny Lee Miller of 'Trainspotting' fame deliver two quite different yet equally astonishing performances. These were recognised when they shared the 2012 Olivier Award for Best Actor. Now this landmark 2011 production returns to Cineworld as part of the National Theatre's 50th anniversary celebrations.

A SEASON OF Culture 2013

14th December Met Opera Live performance of Verdi's Falstaff.

Ambrogio Maestri stars in The Met Opera's glorious production of Verdi's masterpiece. This classic opera begins when the 'rascal of Windsor' Sir John Falstaff (Ambrogio Maestri) is accused of theft by Dr Caius - setting in motion a witty tale of honour and romance. Music director James Levine returns to conduct Falstaff at the Met for the first time since 2005. Levine, in partnership with Canadian opera director Robert Carsen, puts a fresh twist on this iconic masterwork, moving it from Middle Ages to the mid-20th century. Ambrogio Maestri takes on the central role of the corpulent, unforgettable Sir John Falstaff (famous from Shakespeare's plays). It's another memorable performance that follows hot on the heels of his success as last season's Dulcamara in L'Elisir d'Amore. Paul Steinberg's evocative set design and the atmospheric lighting from Carsen and Peter Van Praet further immerse audiences in the world of Verdi's masterpiece - the final opera he composed during his lifetime.
